Fair Rained Out, to Judge Horses on Saturday

First Day Brings Out Big Crowd

All Events Are Called Success

The 1955 Ulster County Fair, which opened so auspiciously yesterday, came to an abrupt end this morning as heavy rains from the skirts of Hurricane Diane made a muddy bog of Forsyth Park with deep puddles covering the field and with tents and the pavilion leaking badly.

Exhibitors were gradually moving their produce, poultry, etc. Some of the smaller tents have been taken down.

THE FAIR was terminated by officials of the Ulster County Agricultural Society about 9:30 a. m. when it became apparent rains were not diminishing.

Albert Kurdt, secretary of the society, said the opening day was marked by the attendance of "as big a crowd we ever had." Hundreds thronged through the grounds during the morning, increasing during the afternoon and evening.

HE POINTED out that the fair was officially at an end. However, the judging of horses will be held Saturday morning and afternoon.

Judging of classes one to eight on the premium list will begin at 10 a. m. Judging of classes nine to 23 will commence at 1:30 p. m.

THE JUDGING of horses and the 4-H Club horse showmanship had been scheduled for this morning and afternoon. The 4-H event was canceled as was the tractor operator's contest scheduled for 9 a. m. today.

The Ken-L-Ration pet show yesterday afternoon in cooperation with the Kingston Recreation Department was a fine success. Many residents of the county also attended the dance in the evening on the tennis court. Music was provided through the courtesy of Local 215, American Federation of Musicians.

ALSO REPORTED as fine successes were the 4-H Club dress revue last night and a parade of cattle in the main show ring.

Mr. Kurdt said there had been a "full traffic" all day Wednesday. Many people from the more remote parts of the county probably failed to attend due to inclement weather expected with the approach of the hurricane.

HE SAID CALLS were coming in from all over the county today asking about the weather. Some were county residents who had planned to enter horses in the competition scheduled for this morning and afternoon.

One young lady was almost in tears, Mr. Kurdt said. She had carefully groomed and braided her horse and was all set for a grand day.

Mr. Kurdt said there had been some damage to one of the large tents where some of the seams opened up, dripping water on the exhibits. Leaks sprung in others. Heavy rains also caused the park pavilion, which housed the homemaking exhibit, to leak.

"THIS IS A day for the ducks. They've come into their environment," Frederic Snyder, lecturer and traveler, commented. The poultry was particularly bedraggled, although some of the roosters managed a crow or two.

Ladies at the pavilion were busy packing up hundreds of handicraft items entered in the homemaking exhibits. Some of the ladies asked that the work of Everice Parsons, home demonstration agent, in planning in setting up the exhibits, receive some mention. The exhibit was one of the finest ever offered at the local fair.

Rain Drenches Local Area

Storm Damage Is Less Than Last Weekend's

A heavy rainfall which began early today caused scattered damage in the area, but was not as destructive as the storm of last weekend.

The New York Telephone Company reported more than 100 telephones out of service in the Kingston and Woodstock areas due to heavily dampened cables, and the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., said service in parts of Port Ewen and Esopus was disrupted when a falling tree in Port Ewen crippled electric lines.

LESS THAN an inch of rain was reported up to 9 a. m., in the Ashokan and Schoharie reservoir areas, but the recent rain brought the total for the month to 7.11 inches at the Ashokan headworks and 6.10 inches at Schoharie.

The total up to 9 a. m., today at Schoharie .89 of an inch. Continued rain after that report, it appears, added enough to bring both totals over an inch.

DAMAGE to telephone lines was considered light after that of last weekend when 1,500 telephones were reported knocked out of service in the area. That was due largely to heavy wind and rain plus falling limbs, which damaged both utility and telephone lines.

Water gurgled out of a manhole in the Broadway underpass this morning after the cover was forced off, and at 6:10 a. m., police were notified that a large section of a tree had fallen at Pearl street and Noone's Lane.

Sections of streets and area highways were flooded during heaviest downpours.

Lackawack Man Is Released After Extended Hearing

Warren Peter Mierop, 21, of Lackawack, well known Ellenville baseball and basketball player, is once again at his home after a most unusual experience which involved a fracas at the Middletown Fair on Tuesday, Aug. 9, an affair before a justice of the peace, a committment to Middletown State Hospital, and finally a release from custody after a habeas corpus proceeding before Special County Judge Edward M. O'Gorman of Orange county at Monroe which lasted from 2:30 p. m. Tuesday to after midnight.

MIEROP WAS released by Judge O'Gorman after a hearing which lasted continuously throughout the afternoon and evening with one 40-minute break. John J. Schick, assistant district attorney of Ulster county, appeared for Mierop, relator in the habeas corpus proceedings and Benjamin A. Gilman, assistant attorney general, appeared for Dr. Hymen Pleasure, director of the Middletown State Hospital, respondent.

The affair started at a "concession" booth at the Middletown Fair on August 9, when Mierop playing a game alleged he had won a major prize, a large clock. A dispute arose between Mierop and the operator of the booth who alleged the prize had not been won.

MIEROP TOOK the clock and an argument ensued during which the clock was thrown to the ground and broken.

Later Mierop testified troopers had been summoned and he was taken to a tefporary State

Cashin Record Factor In Appointment: Wicks

President Eisenhower undoubtedly took into consideration the experience of Judge John M. Cashin in appointing him to the federal bench, State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, noted in a congratulatory statement on the appointment announced yesterday.

THE SENATOR said:

We are most gratified that President Eisenhower has appointed our County Judge, John M. Cashin, to the Federal bench. I endorsed Judge Cashin for this position last fall and have continued to fight for his designation since that time.

The Southern District is a very large one and many prominent and well qualified attorneys were recommended and strongly supported for this vacancy.

WE ARE EXTREMELY happy that our efforts have met with success. As most people are aware, this is the first Federal Judgeship that has ever come to our county and we consider it a signal honor, not only for Judge Cashin, but for Kingston and Ulster county.

The judge has been a most loyal and ardent supporter of the Republican party during his entire career and is most deserving of the honor that our President has seen fit to bestow upon him. His experience as an Assistant United States Attorney and County Judge will stand him in good stead in his new position. We feel certain that this experience was a strong factor in the President's decision to appoint him and we are confident that he will render eminent service in this most important position.

I JOIN his legion of friends in Kingston and Ulster county in wishing Judge Cashin every happiness and success as a federal judge in the United States District Court.

In urging his appointment we had the backing of the New York State Republican Committee and the Republican National Committeeman, Dean Taylor of Troy, N. Y., a long time friend and admirer of Judge Cashin.

Judge Cashin had the unanimous endorsement of the Ulster County Bar Association and was also endorsed by the New York State Bar Association, Judicial Committee and similar committees of the American Bar Association, the Association of the Bar of the City of New York and the New York County Lawyers' Association.

UN Scores Downing of U.S. Plane

Searching Craft Also Fired Upon

Panmunjom, Korea, Aug. 18 (AP) — Communist anti-aircraft guns yesterday shot down a small unarmed American training plane. The UN command today said the craft had "inadvertently intruded" over the demilitarized zone but not into North Korean territory.

Later the air force announced a C47 transport searching for the missing trainer was fired upon this morning.

Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior allied member of the Joint Armistice Commission, accused the Reds of "wanton barbarism" in pouring "continuous murderous and devastating ground fire" at the plane until it crashed, out of control, in Communist territory.

PARKS SAID the plane carried only a pilot and a military passenger on "a routine training flight."

There was no information on whether the two escaped death. Their names were withheld.

Parks demanded that the Reds immediately return the two men.

The transport pilot, Capt. J. W. Ingraham, said he saw tracers from small arms fire. One small slug hit the left wing just behind the engine housing but the plane was otherwise un-

Chest Passes $24,100 Budget; Volunteers In

The board of directors of the Kingston Area Community Chest, Inc., on Wednesday night accepted the Volunteers of America for provisional membership and approved budget requests totaling $24,100 for inclusion in the next Red Feather campaign.

Acceptance of the Volunteers of America was contingent upon that agency meeting and maintaining membership qualifications by January 1, 1956, the beginning date of the agency's actual participation in Chest allotments. The agency was inactive locally from Sept. 30, 1954, until April 1 of this year, when Capt. and Mrs. John C. Banks were assigned here as executive officers.

A request for a budget grant of $6,600 for the year 1956 was approved for the Volunteers. Largest single item in the agency's budget for next year is earmarked for transient relief, including domiciliary care of individuals, families and children, totaling $3,000.

Although no provision was made for re-activating the day nursery formerly operated by the Volunteers at their building at 24 Barmann avenue, the Chest board was advised that such a

Bids Held Up by PW For Study

Bids were opened yesterday by the Board of Public Works for street and sewer work in a new city residential section known as the Burgevin development off Pearl street extension.

Three bids were received on the street work and four on the sewer project. They were referred to a committee for canvassing and tabulation before the awarding of contracts.

Bids on the street work were by James Berardi, Kingston; V. J. Costanzi, Inc., Poughkeepsie, and the Callanan Road Improvement Co., South Rondout. The same three also bid on the sewer work along with Joseph Gruner, of Highland.

AMOUNTS of the bids were not disclosed pending tabulation.

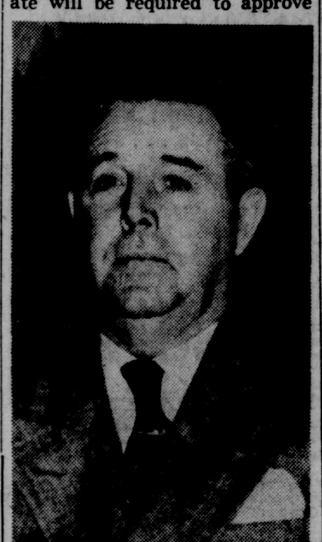
The board approved appointment of John C. Salapatis, of 25 Harding avenue, as a junior engineer in the engineering department. Approved as motor equipment operators in the public works department were James C. Kiernan, 37 Broadway, and Joseph Orr, 29 Franklin street.

The board held a special meeting to receive the bids. Its regular meeting is slated for Aug. 24.

To Resign Local Post Following Conference

The appointment of County Judge John M. Cashin as a Federal Judge, U. S. District Court, Southern District of New York, was announced yesterday by President Eisenhower at his Fraser, Colorado, vacation camp.

The appointment is an interim appointment and the U. S. Senate will be required to approve the appointment when it is again called into session. However, Judge Cashin will be sworn in and serve pending confirmation.



JUDGE J. M. CASHIN

APPOINTMENT of Judge Cashin, who has served as county judge of Ulster county and judge of the Children's Court since 1943, was made to fill a vacancy created by the retirement of Judge Edward A. Conger.

Judge Cashin stated today he would be in New York city Friday to hold a conference and ascertain just when he would assume office. Pending this conference in New York, he stated he would be unable to make a statement as to when he would resign his position as county judge or take the oath of office for the new appointment.

AS FEDERAL judge of the Southern District of New York he will preside over the counties of Bronx, Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, New York, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster and Westchester. The office of the Federal Court is in the U. S. Court House at Foley Square, New York city.

Appointment of Judge Cashin to the Federal court bench will require that he resign his office as county judge and also relinquish his private practice.

IN A STATEMENT today Judge Cashin said:

"It is needless for me to say that I am happy and proud of the high honor conferred upon me by President Eisenhower. I humbly pray that in discharging my duties as Federal Judge I shall be able to justify the President's confidence in me.

"I am deeply grateful to my friend, Senator Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee who recommended me to this appointment and to our Republican organization for their loyal and vigorous support."

Judge Cashin had received the endorsement of numerous groups, including the Ulster County Bar Association.

AT THE RECENT Republican County convention former District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was named as the party candidate for the office of county judge, following an announcement by County Judge Cashin that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself.

The Democratic party named as its choice William A. Kelly, secretary of the Ulster County Democratic Committee. It is assumed that with the resignation of Judge Cashin, Governor Harriman will appoint Kelly as successor since appointments to fill vacancies of this nature usually are made along party lines.

In 1940 at the death of Frederick G. Traver, Andrew J. Cook was named to fill the unexpired term.

Judge Cashin was first appointed county judge in 1943 when Judge J. Edward Conway resigned. He was elected to office and has since served in that capacity.

John M. Cashin was born in Kingston Aug. 31, 1892. He attended schools in Kingston and was graduated from Kingston Academy in June, 1910. After serving a year in a law office in this city, he entered Cornell Law School at Ithaca, in September, 1911 and was graduated in June, 1915 with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. He was admitted to the bar of the State of New York in April, 1916 and has been a prac-

Delinquency Factors Cited

Check on Whole Social System Urged by Stang

A thorough revaluation of our educational, penal, religious and other related social systems is a must, in fighting youth delinquency, Frederick H. Stang declared today as first speaker at a district meeting on juvenile delinquency in Poughkeepsie.

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who presided as a legislative member of the State Temporary Commission on Youth Delinquency will forward the information and data presented at the session to the Commission in Albany in October.

WITH THE MAYOR at Poughkeepie today were City Judge Raymond J. Mino, who was designated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of New York, to represent that organization at the meeting; Andrew J. Murphy 3rd, local recreational director, and his assistant Harry Edson.

Mayor Stang was followed by speakers in the fields of religion, education and civic leadership from Orange, Dutchess, Sullivan, Delaware and Putnam counties.

The local mayor's talk was on the question of "What are the factors in our society which contribute to the present increase in the delinquency of many of our youth?" He offered 12 points to be considered.

THE MAYOR said:

I have been requested to give the opening salvo, as it were, in this regional hearing on the general topic of juvenile delinquency and, more particularly, as the agenda indicates, "what are the factors in our society which contribute to the present increase in the delinquency of many of our youth?"

IN ORDER to successfully combat something, we must first know what it is, analyze it, if you please, and try to under-

Saugerties Board Holds Up Action On School Buses

The second meeting in two days of the Board of Education of Saugerties Central School District No. 1 held last night in the Saugerties High School building failed to find a solution to the problem created when local bus company bids for pupil transportation were opened on Tuesday night and found to total over $60,000.

The original estimate set forth by the state Education Department in Albany was $36,000 or approximately $50 per pupil.

A representative of the department who attended the meeting of the board last night indicated that the department would not look favorably on the excessive transportation charges and requested that a committee be formed to meet with the local bus company operators for the purpose of lowering the estimates. The state aid share of the transportation of pupils was estimated at approximately $30,000.

3 New Polio Cases in County

Total for Year Is 11 Health Record Shows

Three more cases of polio have been reported in Ulster county, one non-paralytic and two with mild paralysis, it was announced today by the Ulster County Health Department.

All three are residents of the county—one a 20-year-old male resident of the city of Kingston.

This brings the total for the year to 11 residents and two non-residents. Five cases have been reported since last weekend.

Dr. Dudley Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner, said the figure was still rather low compared to the rest of the state—"nothing approaching an epidemic."

The Kingston case has recovered and is being treated at his home, Dr. Hargrave said. He has "some mild paralysis."

One of the other two cases is a 37-year-old man from the northern part of the county. He is in a hospital with mild paralysis.

The non-paralytic case is that of a 12-year-old boy residing in the southwest portion of the county. He is being treated at home and is making a good recovery, Dr. Hargrave said.

Area Troopers Aid in Halting Revolt

Eighteen Injured in 26-Minute Rebellion by Comstock Inmates

A heavily armed task force of guards and state police, including five troopers from the Kingston area, waged a 26-minute battle with 174 surly convicts today and crushed a revolt at Great Meadows Correctional Institute in Comstock.

Eighteen persons were injured, the Associated Press reported.

Kingston area troopers, who were dispatched to Comstock yesterday afternoon were:

Cpl. Ray Dunn of Phoenicia, Trooper H. Ganss of the Kingston station and Troopers J. Buffett, and J. J. Cullen and J. Steinhilber of the Highland barracks.

The troopers, who left in two police cars with emergency equipment, were told to be prepared to remain in Comstock for five days.

Meanwhile, according to the (AP) report, a shot fired accidently ricocheted and wounded two troopers and a guard as the rebels, wielding nail-studded wooden slats, retreated grudgingly to their cells. Another trooper and 14 prisoners suffered cuts and bruises.

It was the first revolt in a New York state prison in a quarter century.

The rebels had defied an ultimatum from Thomas J. McHugh, state correction commissioner. McHugh raced here 100 miles from Canton and told rebels to end the disturbance within five minutes. They did not comply.

The uprising began in a recreation area at about 5 p. m. (EDT) when the supper whistle was blown five minutes early, cutting short a recreation period. Superintendent Joseph Conboy said it was done because of a threat of rain.

The rebels huddled in a corner of the area and refused to go inside. They demanded to see McHugh.

The commissioner sped to this Washington county village from St. Lawrence University, where he had been attending a conference on juvenile delinquency.

He arrived a short time before midnight and delivered his ultimatum at 12:12 a. m. over the prison loud-speaker system. He counted the minutes aloud.

At 12:17, about 150 guards and 60 troopers, moved in with nightsticks, rifles and submachine guns. The prisoners were armed with benches, nails and nail-studded slats from benches in the recreation yard.

The first 20 or 30 rebels en-

To Resign Local Post Following Conference

The appointment of County Judge John M. Cashin as a Federal Judge, U. S. District Court, Southern District of New York, was announced yesterday by President Eisenhower at his Fraser, Colorado, vacation camp.

The appointment is an interim appointment and the U. S. Senate will be required to approve the appointment when it is again called into session. However, Judge Cashin will be sworn in and serve pending confirmation.

JUDGE J. M. CASHIN

APPOINTMENT of Judge Cashin, who has served as county judge of Ulster county and judge of the Children's Court since 1943, was made to fill a vacancy created by the retirement of Judge Edward A. Conger.

Judge Cashin stated today he would be in New York city Friday to hold a conference and ascertain just when he would assume office. Pending this conference in New York, he stated he would be unable to make a statement as to when he would resign his position as county judge or take the oath of office for the new appointment.

AS FEDERAL judge of the Southern District of New York he will preside over the counties of Bronx, Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, New York, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster and Westchester. The office of the Federal Court is in the U. S. Court House at Foley Square, New York city.

Appointment of Judge Cashin to the Federal court bench will require that he resign his office as county judge and also relinquish his private practice.

IN A STATEMENT today Judge Cashin said:

"It is needless for me to say that I am happy and proud of the high honor conferred upon me by President Eisenhower. I humbly pray that in discharging my duties as Federal Judge I shall be able to justify the President's confidence in me.

"I am deeply grateful to my friend, Senator Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee who recommended me to this appointment and to our Republican organization for their loyal and vigorous support."

Judge Cashin had received the endorsement of numerous groups, including the Ulster County Bar Association.

AT THE RECENT Republican County convention former District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was named as the party candidate for the office of county judge, following an announcement by County Judge Cashin that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself.

The Democratic party named as its choice William A. Kelly, secretary of the Ulster County Democratic Committee. It is assumed that with the resignation of Judge Cashin, Governor Harriman will appoint Kelly as successor since appointments to fill vacancies of this nature usually are made along party lines.

In 1940 at the death of Frederick G. Traver, Andrew J. Cook was named to fill the unexpired term.

Judge Cashin was first appointed county judge in 1943 when Judge J. Edward Conway resigned. He was elected to office and has since served in that capacity.

John M. Cashin was born in Kingston Aug. 31, 1892. He attended schools in Kingston and was graduated from Kingston Academy in June, 1910. After serving a year in a law office in this city, he entered Cornell Law School at Ithaca, in September, 1911 and was graduated in June, 1915 with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. He was admitted to the bar of the State of New York in April, 1916 and has been a prac-

Delinquency Factors Cited

Check on Whole Social System Urged by Stang

A thorough revaluation of our educational, penal, religious and other related social systems is a must, in fighting youth delinquency, Frederick H. Stang declared today as first speaker at a district meeting on juvenile delinquency in Poughkeepsie.

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who presided as a legislative member of the State Temporary Commission on Youth Delinquency will forward the information and data presented at the session to the Commission in Albany in October.

WITH THE MAYOR at Poughkeepie today were City Judge Raymond J. Mino, who was designated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of New York, to represent that organization at the meeting; Andrew J. Murphy 3rd, local recreational director, and his assistant Harry Edson.

Mayor Stang was followed by speakers in the fields of religion, education and civic leadership from Orange, Dutchess, Sullivan, Delaware and Putnam counties.

The local mayor's talk was on the question of "What are the factors in our society which contribute to the present increase in the delinquency of many of our youth?" He offered 12 points to be considered.

THE MAYOR said:

I have been requested to give the opening salvo, as it were, in this regional hearing on the general topic of juvenile delinquency and, more particularly, as the agenda indicates, "what are the factors in our society which contribute to the present increase in the delinquency of many of our youth?"

IN ORDER to successfully combat something, we must first know what it is, analyze it, if you please, and try to under-

Saugerties Board Holds Up Action On School Buses

The second meeting in two days of the Board of Education of Saugerties Central School District No. 1 held last night in the Saugerties High School building failed to find a solution to the problem created when local bus company bids for pupil transportation were opened on Tuesday night and found to total over $60,000.

The original estimate set forth by the state Education Department in Albany was $36,000 or approximately $50 per pupil.

A representative of the department who attended the meeting of the board last night indicated that the department would not look favorably on the excessive transportation charges and requested that a committee be formed to meet with the local bus company operators for the purpose of lowering the estimates. The state aid share of the transportation of pupils was estimated at approximately $30,000.

3 New Polio Cases in County

Total for Year Is 11 Health Record Shows

Three more cases of polio have been reported in Ulster county, one non-paralytic and two with mild paralysis, it was announced today by the Ulster County Health Department.

All three are residents of the county—one a 20-year-old male resident of the city of Kingston.

This brings the total for the year to 11 residents and two non-residents. Five cases have been reported since last weekend.

Dr. Dudley Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner, said the figure was still rather low compared to the rest of the state—"nothing approaching an epidemic."

The Kingston case has recovered and is being treated at his home, Dr. Hargrave said. He has "some mild paralysis."

One of the other two cases is a 37-year-old man from the northern part of the county. He is in a hospital with mild paralysis.

The non-paralytic case is that of a 12-year-old boy residing in the southwest portion of the county. He is being treated at home and is making a good recovery, Dr. Hargrave said.

Area Troopers Aid in Halting Revolt

Eighteen Injured in 26-Minute Rebellion by Comstock Inmates

A heavily armed task force of guards and state police, including five troopers from the Kingston area, waged a 26-minute battle with 174 surly convicts today and crushed a revolt at Great Meadows Correctional Institute in Comstock.

Eighteen persons were injured, the Associated Press reported.

Kingston area troopers, who were dispatched to Comstock yesterday afternoon were:

Cpl. Ray Dunn of Phoenicia, Trooper H. Ganss of the Kingston station and Troopers J. Buffett, and J. J. Cullen and J. Steinhilber of the Highland barracks.

The troopers, who left in two police cars with emergency equipment, were told to be prepared to remain in Comstock for five days.

Meanwhile, according to the (AP) report, a shot fired accidently ricocheted and wounded two troopers and a guard as the rebels, wielding nail-studded wooden slats, retreated grudgingly to their cells. Another trooper and 14 prisoners suffered cuts and bruises.

It was the first revolt in a New York state prison in a quarter century.

The rebels had defied an ultimatum from Thomas J. McHugh, state correction commissioner. McHugh raced here 100 miles from Canton and told rebels to end the disturbance within five minutes. They did not comply.

The uprising began in a recreation area at about 5 p. m. (EDT) when the supper whistle was blown five minutes early, cutting short a recreation period. Superintendent Joseph Conboy said it was done because of a threat of rain.

The rebels huddled in a corner of the area and refused to go inside. They demanded to see McHugh.

The commissioner sped to this Washington county village from St. Lawrence University, where he had been attending a conference on juvenile delinquency.

He arrived a short time before midnight and delivered his ultimatum at 12:12 a. m. over the prison loud-speaker system. He counted the minutes aloud.

At 12:17, about 150 guards and 60 troopers, moved in with nightsticks, rifles and submachine guns. The prisoners were armed with benches, nails and nail-studded slats from benches in the recreation yard.

The first 20 or 30 rebels entered the prison at 12:30. It was all over by 12:43.

Conboy told reporters the prisoners had a variety of complaints but there was no pattern. For example, he said, two complained that they were not getting medical treatment they wanted and a third wanted improved recreation program next winter.

McHugh said he believed the trouble originated when the men heard radio news reports of a revolt at Nebraska Penitentiary Tuesday night.

"These things are contagious," he said.

Inspector Joseph B. Sayers of the State Police was among those injured. His right hand was cut, apparently by a slat used by a prisoner. He was released after hospital treatment.

Rollin Graves, 23, of Fort Ann, the guard was the only one injured seriously. He was taken to Glens Falls Hospital with a leg wound.

The wounded troopers were Paul J. Pysnack, 22, of Auburn, and Robert J. Murphy, 25, of Endicott. Both were from Troop D, Oneida.

Pysnack was reported in "fairly good" condition at the hospital with a flesh wound of the right thigh. Murphy was discharged after treatment for a wound in the groin.

McHugh refused to negotiate with the rebels and said this was the main reason the uprising was quelled so quickly. He said the state police deserved great credit for rushing reinforcements so quickly.

The square-jawed commissioner said, "the mistake made in situations like this is to attempt to negotiate instead of acting fast."

McHugh launched an inquiry into the uprising today and said he would remain at least through the day. The prisoners were restricted today.

Conboy said they would be let out of the cells in small groups for meals and for limited activity.

McHugh spoke over the loudspeakers for several minutes.

"If you return to your cells I will arrange to talk with leaders, he said. "This is no commitment, no promise, no bargain. If you do not return we're going to put you in there and we have power to do it.

"YOU HAVE five minutes to make up your minds. Drop all weapons. Move out 20 at a time wth hands behind your heads. This is an ultimatum.

"Don't make bigger mistakes than you have made already."

The commissioner promised that if they did act immediately he would talk to the first 10 who presented complaints.

The prisoners remained in the northeast corner of the recreation area.

McHugh said one trooper or guard was carrying a shotgun that went off as he pushed forward. The commissioner said it would be difficult to determine who it was.

THE INSTITUTION formerly was known as Great Meadow state prison. It was converted to a reformatory for younger offenders in February, 1954. It has about 1,150 inmates.

There still were a number of older prisoners there, he said.

McHugh said 50 of the rebels were of the older group. Most of the others were in their 20s.

He said he believed the leaders of the revolt were in the older group.

10 Jet Fighters Set New Records

Austin, Tex., Aug. 18 (AP) — Refueled in flight, 10 F84F jet fighters flew from an American base in England to Austin yesterday to break two world's records.

One of the records was for time, the other for nonstop mass flight distance.

The fighters averaged 480 miles per hour for the 5,118-mile trip from the English midlands to their station here at Bergstrom Air Force Base. The average was dropped by slowing down for in-flight refueling from tanker planes.

Col. Richard N. Ellis, 39, commanding officer of the group's 27th Strategic Air Command, led the Thunderstreaks in their 10-hour and 48-minute dash.

Kerhonkson Girl Hurt in Mishap

A four-year-old Kerhonkson girl suffered lacerations and contusions of the face in a two-car accident on Route 209 in Accord about 5:30 p. m. yesterday.

Diana Lind Pagliaroni, passenger in a 1953 sedan operated by her mother, Mrs. Pauline Brown, 27, of Kerhonkson, was treated at the Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville. She was taken to the hospital by the Ellenville Rescue and Emergency Squad.

TROOPER R. F. Dauch of the Ellenville State Police said Mrs. Brown was traveling south on Route 209 about 35 MPH when the car left the highway on the left side and struck the rear of a car, owned by John H. Wikane of Stone Ridge, parked in front of Anderson's Chevrolet Garage. The Brown car then recrossed the highway and entered a ditch. The Brown vehicle was reported badly damaged.

harmed. Ingraham said he was about 50 miles northeast of Seoul, near the demilitarized zone. It was assumed the shots came from the Communist side of the demarcation line.

AIR FORCE officials said the plane which allied ground observers saw shot down is believed to be a T6 trainer missing on a training flight from Kimpo Air Base, near Seoul.

It took off at 2 p. m. and the last routine radio report was received about an hour later, the air force said.

About 30 minutes later, UN ground observers reported they saw the plane shot down by North Korean anti-aircraft fire.

The air force said the report had come from South Korean troops. Parks referred to the observers only as "United Nations Command ground observers."

An air force search failed to find any trace of the plane or passengers.

Parks said in a letter to the Reds, "this aircraft carried no armament whatsoever and was performing a routine training flight . . . it committed no acts that could possibly be construed as hostile."

Jungle Destruction

Tropical rain forests compose about one-half of the world's forest area. Far from being impenetrable, the jungles are fast being destroyed by man.

Walden Pageant Set Aug. 25-26

All preparations have been completed for presentation of the outstanding features of the "Through the Years," as one of the standing features of the centennial celebration of the village of Walden. The pageant will be presented in the air-conditioned Didsbury Theatre at 9 p. m., Thursday and Friday, Aug. 25 and 26. The centennial celebration period will begin Sunday, Aug. 21 and continue through Saturday, Aug. 27.

Walden was incorporated as a village on April 9, 1855, and derives its name from a prominent New York merchant, Jacob Treadwell Walden, who came here in 1813, foresaw the future possibilities of this site at the high falls of the Wallkill river, and was instrumental in having early industry come to this area. Mr. Walden was the son of Jacob Walden of Portsmouth, N. H., who served with distinction aboard the Sloop of War Ranger under Captain John Paul Jones in the Revolution.

THE HISTORICAL pageant will depict highlights in the hundred-year-old career of Walden, largest village in Orange county and an important manufacturing center in the Mid-Hudson region. It is locally written, by Helen Quackenbush and Elsbeth Ronk, both of whom also will direct the production.

Centennial Week will be opened formally on Sunday, Aug. 21, with special services in many churches of the community.

At 8 p. m. on Thursday and Friday, Aug. 25 and 26 there will be brief speaking programs and band concerts at Bradley Park. On Saturday, Aug. 27, at 3 p. m. an historical parade, with floats, costumed marchers and ancient bicycles and vehicles, will be the feature attraction. The parade will be followed by an outdoor program at Bradley Park, a carnival in the evening, and, as a gigantic climax, a great display of fireworks.

FEDERAL JUDGE CASHIN

President Eisenhower's announcement of the appointment of County Judge John M. Cashin as a federal judge for the Southern District of the State of New York was greeted enthusiastically by the citizens of Ulster County. Members of the bench and bar who have come to know the judge in the course of his life's work as a practicing attorney and as a judge and his fellow citizens with whom he has labored in the various civic and charitable endeavors of the community are profoundly pleased with his elevation to the federal bench.

Judge Cashin has an enviable record as county judge and he has gained the esteem and well wishes of the entire community. In his new post he will be able to put to further use his talent.

His experience on the bench as county judge and judge of the children's court and the capability required for the new post commended Judge Cashin for the elevation. President Eisenhower is to be complimented upon his wise choice for this important judgeship.

Those who will appear before Judge Cashin in Federal Court may be assured they will be given a completely fair trial. His fairness together with his keen perception in clarifying evidence and testimony of a conflicting nature make him an ideal judge of a court handling many intricate cases.

Performing his duties with a zeal that evidenced a kind of devotion to his work, Judge Cashin has earned the honor that now has been bestowed upon him.

For 12 years he has been county judge of Ulster County presiding in criminal cases, including murder in the first degree, and in civil cases. He also presided over children's court during these years.

His experience also included service as special assistant United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, chief of the Prosecution Bureau which dealt with the prosecution of violators of the Volstead Act and chief counsel to the Prohibition Administrator of the State of New York.

Judge Cashin brings honor to the community for which he has performed faithful service. He also brings honor to the Ulster County Bar Association of which he was an active member.

The fellow at the next desk says that all this talk about traveling into space excites him. With all that room out there it might be possible to find a parking space.

TOO FEW FREIGHT CARS

For almost as long as the oldest inhabitant can remember, the railroads have suffered from a disease known as freight car shortage. This year's acute attack may be the worst since 1948. The shortage is caused by a combination of factors.

For one thing, carloadings are almost 10 per cent higher than in 1954. The other side of the coin is that when business dropped off last year the railroads also cut down on orders for new cars and repair of old ones. Then, too, some receivers are slow about getting cars back in service.

The Association of American Railroads, backed by a new ICC order, is tightening up on rules to speed handling of cars. The railroads also are buying new cars and repairing old ones at a fast clip. These things will all help. But even though railroad men insist that everything that needs moving will be moved, the car situation is going to be tight for several months.

Bulding enough new cars to handle peak demand is one obvious remedy, but it is not economical to have many thousands of cars idle in low-shipping months. Perhaps some fresh thinking is needed to solve this recurrent problem. It may be that a Senate subcommittee now at work will come up with a practical solution. If it does, it will have earned the gratitude of the railroads, the shippers and the general public. The freight car shortage hurts them all.

Throughout most of the country the temperature has been almost as hot as the pennant race in the American League.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

TANGLEWOOD TALES

Each year, during the Summer, I try to do as much of Tanglewood as I can, which can mean as many as four concerts a week for six weeks. It is like bathing in glorious music, in conversation about music, in disputes as to the relative merits of composers, conductors, orchestras. But this year, it was particularly inspiring to meet a number of youngsters who attended the Berkshire Music Center, which is part of Tanglewood, and which is producing the American musician of the future. Already two notable conductors, Leonard Bernstein and Thor Johnson, are Tanglewood products and the school has not yet celebrated its 20th anniversary, which is a mighty good showing.

Institutions of this sort grow out of an idea. If they are set up full-blown, somehow they do not mean too much. Tanglewood is now a permanent institution and it would seem to have been on the banks of the Stockbridge Bowl forever.

Actually, when Miss Gertrude Robinson Smith, a resident among these hills, conceived of a few concerts during the Summer, the idea was supported by the local savings banks and real estate men in the hope that they might attract residents to the beautiful Berkshires which were fading as a place for Summer residence. Today, during most of the Summer, it is almost impossible to find a room even in a motel or a boarding house. And that is because Mozart, Hayden, Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, and other great composers are important to Americans, particularly to young people who know much more about music than their immediate ancestors.

We used to think, up here in these hills, that if anything happened to Serge Koussevitzky, Tanglewood would fade away. Koussevitzky died. Charles Munch took his place, assisted by Pierre Monteux. The concerts are more popular than ever; the crowds are larger; and more and more of the huge audience is very young American.

Tanglewood even has had a book written about its development, which gives one a feeling that it has reached a hoary age, when actually it is so very young that I can remember its first concert under a tent. John G. W. Mahanna, a newspaper man of these parts, has written "Music Under the Moon," which tells the story of this amazing festival of which Charles Munch told me that he has been to all the great music festivals in the world, but there is nothing like Tanglewood, nothing that equals its atmosphere, its enthusiasm.

Mahanna's book is a detailed account of how this permanent institution grew from a very simple idea in the mind of an energetic and stimulating lady, Miss Gertrude Robinson Smith, until it became the center of a renewed cultural area in the United States.

The other day, I was discussing this with Fritz Kreisler who summers here and whose presence in these hills grips the young people who barely get a glance at him. He spoke of names that are forgotten, Joachim, Ysaye and men of distant generations. Each generation produces its own genius and its own leadership. If some criticize Leonard Bernstein for what they call his gyrations when he conducts, he nevertheless is able to impart an enthusiasm, an excitement, a cultural out-reaching among the young people who come to the Music Center which was described to me by another conductor as miraculous.

It is not enough to love music; it is necessary to compose and play so that all the world will love music. This, somehow, is accomplished here or I, and thousands of others, would not attend these concerts which are difficult to reach, on unbelievably poor roads, and with the most primitive physical facilities on the grounds. But as a youngster said to me: "Who cares? The music is wonderful!"

One evening is devoted to "Tanglewood on Parade," a potpourri of everything that is done here, including Opera as managed by Boris Goldovsky. This year, Arthur Fiedler, of the Boston "Pops," ended that evening with Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever." That may not be in the manner of Debussy, but it was in the best of taste, for it reminded us that Tanglewood is in the United States. Here "The Star-Spangled Banner" is never played. Maybe, Fiedler wanted to remind these musicians that the air they breathe in the Berkshires is American air—even if musical!

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

HANDICAPPED PARENTS

Yesterday we were discussing the four types of handicaps that may appear in children according to the time of their development—hereditary, congenital (present before birth), natal (occurring at birth), and occurring during childhood.

Who is to blame?" When you as parents ask this question, you often mean: "Are we to blame?" Naturally you may feel that it is your fault that the job you did in the creation of this new individual is not perfect, or that you permitted something to happen that made a previously perfect child imperfect. Or perhaps, in your desire to turn the finger of blame away from yourself, you make a scapegoat of your doctor or your mate. The wife may point at her husband or the husband at his wife. This is really handicapping yourselves in any effort to help the child. If locating the responsibility could undo the damage done, there might be some purpose to it but finding or locating blame is rather meaningless. Rarely has anyone, parent or otherwise, willfully harmed the child or intentionally caused a deficiency or impairment in health.

Perhaps you wonder — was I the one who caused it — is there anything wrong or inadequate with me that makes my children imperfectly formed or led me to neglect them. This is also a useless inquiry for no one can say with any certainty. When we realize how remarkably complex the human body is in its design and working, when we realize the many changes and progressive transformations that take place in the development of the embryo, it is quite amazing that so few disturbances actually do occur.

As mentioned yesterday, it is more disturbing when a handicap occurs in a first born. If it happens to the third or fourth, the parents have already developed the confidence of knowing that they can have normal children and that this is an accident and could happen to anybody. It may help young parents whose first child has a non-hereditary imperfection to try to think in reverse order, as if their subsequent normal children were already born and this child were their third or fourth.

When a child is handicapped after birth by accidents or sickness, time spent in painful recrimination, regrets or remorse because you didn't do this or didn't do that, because the child was permitted to go outdoors on a rainy day without a coat or rubbers, is destructive although the feelings are difficult to avoid. Trying to turn back the clock to a certain day or moment prevents one from looking ahead to constructive action that may overcome or make up for the deficiency.

The tendency for husband or wife to blame the other for a child's abnormality is harmful to their own relationship and to the child's future. When a child is born with a cleft palate, it is easy for one parent to say, "Oh, yes, you have a cousin with a cleft palate; it must run in your family." If any one of us looks hard enough he can find horse thieves in his ancestry. "The existence of a handicap in one's relatives proves nothing about him or his children."

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA) — There was a beautiful little war among two clans of Irishmen that got lost in the shuffle of getting Congress out of town in a hurry.

It began over President Eisenhower's nomination of Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren E. Burger of St. Paul, Minn.—definitely not an Irish type himself—as a member of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

This nomination was sent to the Senate for confirmation on June 21. It had the endorsement of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Jr., and leaders of Burger's home state. Even Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Jr., (D.-Minn.)—who was never known to miss a chance to needle a Republican—gave his blessing.

A routine hearing was set before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee to examine Burger's fitness.

IT SEEMS, HOWEVER, that there were three Irishmen named McGinty, O'Brien and Mackin. They decided to block it. All three were Democrats, naturally. They had been empoyed as attorneys in the Dept. of Justice Civil Division which Burger headed.

Shortly after the Republicans took over in 1953, they were dismissed.

Despite appeals, hearings, etc., their dismissals by Burger struck. They were out for revenge.

They showed up at the Senate Judiciary subcommittee hearings presided over by another Irish Democrat, Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

McGinty, O'Brien and Mackin charged that Burger was anti-Irish, anti-Catholic, anti-veteran and anti-clean government. Irishman O'Mahoney decided to delay proceedings.

THEY ALL FAILED to reckon, however, on the wrath of another tribe of Irishmen—the McGrannerys. One in particular, named James P., had been President Truman's last attorney general. He had been given the specific job of trying to clean up the Department of Justice, which was in something of a mess.

McGrannery charged in, demanding to be heard. This put the Democrats on something of a spot. It would never do to have one Democrat testifying against other Democrats, O'Mahoney put McGrannery off.

Instead, Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers was called in. Republican Rogers, though not Irish, revealed that early in 1953 McGrannery and his deputy, Ross Malone — definitely Irish — had conferences with Brownell and Rogers.

AT THESE MEETINGS the Democrats had passed along to the Republicans their recommendations for reorganizing the Department of Justice. Included was a list of lawyers McGrannery said should be dropped from government service.

It developed the trio opposing Burger's nomination for a judgeship had been ticketed in this 1952 cleanup. The action was blocked by the Eisenhower victory.

McGrannery gave full support, however, to having his recommendation carried out by the Republicans.

But in the end McGinty, O'Brien and Mackin won the battle temporarily. While the O'Mahoney subcommittee decided to approve Burger's appointment to the bench, the full Judiciary Committee never found time to recommend his confirmation to the Senate.

Until the next session of Congress at least, Warren Burger must remain a mere assistant attorney general instead of becoming His Honor, The Judge, because of the Irish war.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Geneva — The British press took a supercilious attitude toward the case of Harold Talbott, a member of Eisenhower's cult of rich industrial sponsors, and secretary for air, who did something he shouldn't have done, though that which he did was legal. Some of the continental papers chimed in, but we need not go into details because the whole corrupt, hypocritical claque can be put to flight in general terms as follows:

Talbott retained an interest in a business firm which dealt with companies producing materials for war. By mail and by phone he recommended this firm's services. At substantial personal loss, he had rid himself of other interests which might have put him in the way of gain through government expenditures.

Ere venturing overseas for devastating parallels, let me recall that of all the crooks of the foul regime of Roosevelt and Truman exposed in hideous corruption, from the White House down, the one who got it worst was a poor, ignorant hanger-on named Johnny Maragon. Johnny went to a federal prison not for any sort of grafting but just for telling a lie under oath. Johnny was known as "the Kansas City bootblack." That was a device to shield eminent individuals who threw him little crumbs of patronage when the Kansas City gang rose to power. They favored him for old time's sake. They had known him when they were precocious young apprentice crooks under Tom Pendergast, and Maragon was an illiterate, accommodating greenhorn from Greece. Winter set in in Kansas City and Maragon got a job as furnace boy and bouncer in a brothel patronized by members of the Pendergast machine. Pendergast, incidentally, received a tithe or more of every brass check in that commerce and every crook in the executive ranks of the machine knew and acquiesced in this.

I met Johnny Maragon at the training camp of the Washington ballclub in Tampa in 1924. He had fingers like bananas, inexhaustible strength and to me, the patience and personal loyalty of a seeing-eye dog. Over all these years, whenever he could meet me on arrival or see me out of Washington I could not carry my bag or typewriter. He has waited hours quietly outside a restaurant for me to finish and escort me to my plane or train. He never would take a dollar until, after he came out of prison, broke, despondent and blackballed from work, he accepted $100 as a loan.

The Truman machine kept him locked up until the very last hour, months past his qualification for parole, for reasons which are not necessarily those expressed to Johnny or, upon my inquiry, to me. The Democrats had a presidential campaign coming on. They knew Maragon was morose and almost hysterical. They thought they had reason to fear the moral effect on the electorate of the tale he could unfold about the truth of his early associations in Kansas City. However, such fears may have been exaggerated. The marital escapade of Jimmy Roosevelt was to show last year that nothing makes the American public sick or even slightly bilious any more.

Now let us refer to the political morals of Great Britain.

The British House of Commons, known as the Mother of Parliaments, is an aggregation of slovenly political slobs chosen by remote, arrogant party committees. There are certain ineffective restrictions on the amount that a "party" may spend to elect a candidate but these are meaningless. The candidates thus imposed on a given constituency often are absolute strangers to the electorate. I dined with a twittering ass in a mildewed mansion in London and paid for my meal by submission to three hours of bad manners, who was, himself, M.P. for a district many miles away and knew hardly a hundred voters there. There were, she said, about a dozen other M.P.'s living within a few blocks of his address, all equally incognito in the districts which they represented. They knew little about the local problems of their political bailiwicks and cared less because the British House of Commons is run by small groups of political bosses called committees. They caucus among themselves and lay down the policy to the individual M.P.'s.

To vote against the caucus is heresy, condemned even by the faceless ignoranti who think they rule Britannia. The worst ever said of Aneurin Bevan by his political opponents hardly overstates the case against him. But he and no other practicing quack of the present day has had the originality to say that the Parliament of Britain is not the House of Commons but the caucuses.

The dismal fakers and clods who constitute the membership are openly invited to accept salaries from the treasuries of labor unions not in the guise of pay for fictitious work as union officials but as bribes. The same invitation is open to and acted upon by other members in the service of brewers, shipowners, manufacturers and all manner of other financial interests. In effect, we do the same in Washington, in state Legislatures and county boards and city councils. However, we always have the hypocritical grace to pretend that such pay is given for legal services. Or, in another familiar ruse, we put on the payroll some member of the rascal's family. It is a question whether our system is nicer but it couldn't be more corrupt than the British.

Their congressional pay is as disgracefully low as ours is disgracefully high. One M.P. explained to me that honest chaps could not possibly afford to live in London on the miserable official pay except by "pigging it." This means living together, two or more unsubsidized members, in squalid "diggings" and cooking their tea and rashers on the sooty hob.

France, of course, is beneath consideration by any nation pretending to political decency, let alone dignity. Her cabinets exist in a revolving door. It would be idiotic to ask a Frenchman with a paying business to give up his private concerns for a political tenure that might last no more than 24 hours.

Insurrection Against U.S. Is Likened to Defiant Witnesses

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug 17—A virtual insurrection against the Constitution of the United States is under way among some "Left wing" groups in America. It involves a studied effort to encourage actions in contempt of the Congress of the United States. It amounts to an effort to frustrate the legitimate activities of the committees of Congress in performing their law-writing function.

The latest outcropping of defiance has occurred in connection with the hearings of the House Committee on Un-American Activities which is seeking information concerning Communist infiltration and influence in the theatrical field. Many witnesses not only are invoking the Fifth Amendment by refusing to testify at the New York hearings but are also crying out that the committee has no authority even to call them or investigate their activities. It looks like a concerted move.

THIS TYPE of defiance was urged by the late Albert Einstein, but it has also been seconded by many "Left wing" groups. Even the American Civil Liberties Union, which claims to be disinterestedly concerned only with violations of civil liberties, has questioned the right of a Congressional committee to investigate and says the investigating function is limited only to enactment of "constitutionally permissible legislation." In its report issued in December, 1953, the union says in part:

"No legislature has any right even to 'expose' anything which is not pertinent to constitutionally permissible legislation, just as the executive and the judiciary have no right to exceed their respective constitutional powers."

But what is "constitutionally permissible legislation?" The Congress has a right to rewrite the Constitution itself and to submit the amendments to the people's legislatures. How can it get information on which to base amendments if its inquiries are to be confined only to the existing Constitution and laws permissible under that Constitution?

SEN. HENNINGS, Democrat, of Missouri, chairman of a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, has just issued a questionnaire preparatory to public hearings on the religion clause of the First Amendment to the Constitution. Among its questions are the following:

"Do you believe the free exercise of religion protects atheists in propagating a disbelief in religion?

"Speaking generally and considering the deep emotional nature of religious beliefs, do you feel that the present state of affairs in the United States with respect to the rights expressed in the religion clause is: excellent, good, fair, poor?"

Usually Congress steers clear of all investigations relating to the subject of religion.

It wasn't so long ago that the dismissal of J. B. Matthews as a member of the staff of the Senate subcommittee on governmental operations was forced by three Democratic Senators because of an article about communistic influences in religion which he had written before he was employed by the committee.

FROM ONE END of the country to the other prominent churchmen denounced Matthews, though he merely exercised his right of free speech. Being politically responsive to such pressures, the Senate committee fired Matthews and wouldn't even grant him a hearing. Few protests came from the "totalitarian liberals" who have always been so quick to denounce Congressional committees for allegedly tampering with constitutional rights of individuals.

The committee now headed by Sen. Hennings has, of course, a right to inquire into religious beliefs as they relate to freedom of religion and to get any information needed to strengthen the religion clause of the First Amendment either by a revision of that clause or by such legislation under the existing clause as may be tested in the courts.

It is a safe bet that the "totalitarian liberals" will not attack the Hennings committee. They will continue to exhibit their hostility and to urge non-co-operation only when witnesses are summoned whose testimony might be of assistance in exposing the ramifications of Communist conspiracies. These conspiracies have been proved to exist in certain sections of the theatre, the movies, the press, the church, the schools, the labor unions and the government itself.

DESCRIBING the work of the House Committee on Un-American Activities for the last several years, Chairman Walter said in a formal statement at the New York hearings this week:

"...The committee has made forty - eight recommendations for new legislation by Congress or the strengthening of existing legislation designed to aid the fight against this Communist conspiracy. All but four of these recommendations have been enacted into law in one form or another by the Congress of the United States."

The right of a Congressional committee to acquire information is unlimited. Individuals have a right to refuse to answer and are protected by the Fifth Amendment within certain limits set forth by the courts. Too many persons are abusing the Fifth Amendment by pretending they would be subject to self-incrimination when their real purpose is probably to conceal the illegal or improper acts of others. It is the duty of a citizen to furnish to his government any information he or she possesses about the Communist conspiracy against the United States if it involves the guilt of others.

FEDERAL JUDGE CASHIN

President Eisenhower's announcement of the appointment of County Judge John M. Cashin as a federal judge for the Southern District of the State of New York was greeted enthusiastically by the citizens of Ulster County. Members of the bench and bar who have come to know the judge in the course of his life's work as a practicing attorney and as a judge and his fellow citizens with whom he has labored in the various civic and charitable endeavors of the community are profoundly pleased with his elevation to the federal bench.

Judge Cashin has an enviable record as county judge and he has gained the esteem and well wishes of the entire community. In his new post he will be able to put to further use his talent.

His experience on the bench as county judge and judge of the children's court and the capability required for the new post commended Judge Cashin for the elevation. President Eisenhower is to be complimented upon his wise choice for this important judgeship.

Those who will appear before Judge Cashin in Federal Court may be assured they will be given a completely fair trial. His fairness together with his keen perception in clarifying evidence and testimony of a conflicting nature make him an ideal judge of a court handling many intricate cases.

Performing his duties with a zeal that evidenced a kind of devotion to his work, Judge Cashin has earned the honor that now has been bestowed upon him.

For 12 years he has been county judge of Ulster County presiding in criminal cases, including murder in the first degree, and in civil cases. He also presided over children's court during these years.

His experience also included service as special assistant United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, chief of the Prosecution Bureau which dealt with the prosecution of violators of the Volstead Act and chief counsel to the Prohibition Administrator of the State of New York.

Judge Cashin brings honor to the community for which he has performed faithful service. He also brings honor to the Ulster County Bar Association of which he was an active member.

The fellow at the next desk says that all this talk about traveling into space excites him. With all that room out there it might be possible to find a parking space.

TOO FEW FREIGHT CARS

For almost as lorg as the oldest inhabitant can remember, the railroads have suffered from a disease known as freight car shortage. This year's acute attack may be the worst since 1948. The shortage is caused by a combination of factors.

For one thing, carloadings are almost 10 per cent higher than in 1954. The other side of the coin is that when business dropped off last year the railroads also cut down on orders for new cars and repair of old ones. Then, too, some receivers are slow about getting cars back in service.

The Association of American Railroads, backed by a new ICC order, is tightening up on rules to speed handling of cars. The railroads also are buying new cars and repairing old ones at a fast clip. These things will all help. But even though railroad men insist that everything that needs moving will be moved, the car situation is going to be tight for several months.

Bulding enough new cars to handle peak demand is one obvious remedy, but it is not economical to have many thousands of cars idle in low-shipping months. Perhaps some fresh thinking is needed to solve this recurrent problem. It may be that a Senate subcommittee now at work will come up with a practical solution. If it does, it will have earned the gratitude of the railroads, the shippers and the general public. The freight car shortage hurts them all.

Throughout most of the country the temperature has been almost as hot as the pennant race in the American League.

TANGLEWOOD TALES

Each year, during the Summer, I try to do as much of Tanglewood as I can, which can mean as many as four concerts a week for six weeks. It is like bathing in glorious music, in conversation about music, in disputes as to the relative merits of composers, conductors, orchestras. But this year, it was particularly inspiring to meet a number of youngsters who attended the Berkshire Music Center, which is part of Tanglewood, and which is producing the American musician of the future. Already two notable conductors, Leonard Bernstein and Thor Johnson, are Tanglewood products and the school has not yet celebrated its 20th anniversary, which is a mighty good showing.

Institutions of this sort grow out of an idea. If they are set up full-blown, somehow they do not mean too much. Tanglewood is now a permanent institution and it would seem to have been on the banks of the Stockbridge Bowl forever.

Actually, when Miss Gertrude Robinson Smith, a resident among these hills, conceived of a few concerts during the Summer, the idea was supported by the local savings banks and real estate men in the hope that they might attract residents to the beautiful Berkshires which were fading as a place for Summer residence. Today, during most of the Summer, it is almost impossible to find a room even in a motel or a boarding house. And that is because Mozart, Hayden, Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, and other great composers are important to Americans, particularly to young people who know much more about music than their immediate ancestors.

We used to think, up here in these hills, that if anything happened to Serge Koussevitzky, Tanglewood would fade away. Koussevitzky died. Charles Munch took his place, assisted by Pierre Monteux. The concerts are more popular than ever; the crowds are larger; and more and more of the huge audience is very young American.

Tanglewood even has had a book written about its development, which gives one a feeling that it has reached a hoary age, when actually it is so very young that I can remember its first concert under a tent. John G. W. Mahanna, a newspaper man of these parts, has written "Music Under the Moon," which tells the story of this amazing festival of which Charles Munch told me that he has been to all the great music festivals in the world, but there is nothing like Tanglewood, nothing that equals its atmosphere, its enthusiasm.

Mahanna's book is a detailed account of how this permanent institution grew from a very simple idea in the mind of an energetic and stimulating lady, Miss Gertrude Robinson Smith, until it became the center of a renewed cultural area in the United States.

The other day, I was discussing this with Fritz Kreisler who summers here and whose presence in these hills grips the young people who barely get a glance at him. He spoke of names that are forgotten, Joachim, Ysaye and men of distant generations. Each generation produces its own genius and its own leadership. If some criticize Leonard Bernstein for what they call his gyrations when he conducts, he nevertheless is able to impart an enthusiasm, an excitement, a cultural out-reaching among the young people who come to the Music Center which was described to me by another conductor as miraculous.

It is not enough to love music; it is necessary to compose and play so that all the world will love music. This, somehow, is accomplished here or I, and thousands of others, would not attend these concerts which are difficult to reach, on unbelievably poor roads, and with the most primitive physical facilities on the grounds. But as a youngster said to me: "Who cares? The music is wonderful!"

One evening is devoted to "Tanglewood on Parade," a potpourri of everything that is done here, including Opera as managed by Boris Goldovsky. This year, Arthur Fiedler, of the Boston "Pops," ended that evening with Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever." That may not be in the manner of Debussy, but it was in the best of taste, for it reminded us that Tanglewood is in the United States. Here "The Star-Spangled Banner" is never played. Maybe, Fiedler wanted to remind these musicians that the air they breathe in the Berkshires is American air—even if musical!

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

HANDICAPPED PARENTS

Yesterday we were discussing the four types of handicaps that may appear in children according to the time of their development—hereditary, congenital (present before birth), natal (occurring at birth), and occurring during childhood.

Who is to blame?" When you as parents ask this question, you often mean: "Are we to blame?" Naturally you may feel that it is your fault that the job you did in the creation of this new individual is not perfect, or that you permitted something to happen that made a previously perfect child imperfect. Or perhaps, in your desire to turn the finger of blame away from yourself, you make a scapegoat of your doctor or your mate. The wife may point at her husband or the husband at his wife. This is really handicapping yourselves in any effort to help the child. If locating the responsibility could undo the damage done, there might be some purpose to it but finding or locating blame is rather meaningless. Rarely has anyone, parent or otherwise, willfully harmed the child or intentionally caused a deficiency or impairment in health.

Perhaps you wonder — was I the one who caused it — is there anything wrong or inadequate with me that makes my children imperfectly formed or led me to neglect them. This is also a useless inquiry for no one can say with any certainty. When we realize how remarkably complex the human body is in its design and working, when we realize the many changes and progressive transformations that take place in the development of the embryo, it is quite amazing that so few disturbances actually do occur.

As mentioned yesterday, it is more disturbing when a handicap occurs in a first born. If it happens to the third or fourth, the parents have already developed the confidence of knowing that they can have normal children and that this is an accident and could happen to anybody. It may help young parents whose first child has a nonhereditary imperfection to try to think in reverse order, as if their subsequent normal children were already born and this child were their third or fourth.

When a child is handicapped after birth by accidents or sickness, time spent in painful recrimination, regrets or remorse because you didn't do this or didn't do that, because the child was permitted to go outdoors on a rainy day without a coat or rubbers, is destructive although the feelings are difficult to avoid. Trying to turn back the clock to a certain day or moment prevents one from looking ahead to constructive action that may overcome or make up for the deficiency.

The tendency for husband or wife to blame the other for a child's abnormality is harmful to their own relationship and to the child's future. When a child is born with a cleft palate, it is easy for one parent to say, "Oh, yes, you have a cousin with a cleft palate; it must run in your family." If any one of us looks hard enough he can find horse thieves in his ancestry. "The existence of a handicap in one's relatives proves nothing about him or his children."

Over all these years, whenever he could meet me on arrival or see me out of Washington I could not carry my bag or typewriter. He has waited hours quietly outside a restaurant for me to finish and escort me to my plane or train. He never would take a dollar until, after he came out of prison, broke, despondent and blackballed from work, he accepted $100 as a loan.

The Truman machine kept him locked up until the very last hour, months past his qualification for parole, for reasons which are not necessarily those expressed to Johnny or, upon my inquiry, to me. The Democrats had a presidential campaign coming on. They knew Maragon was morose and almost hysterical. They thought they had reason to fear the moral effect on the electorate of the tale he could unfold about the truth of his early associations in Kansas City. However, such fears may have been exaggerated. The marital escapade of Jimmy Roosevelt was to show last year that nothing makes the American public sick or even slightly bilious any more.

Now let us refer to the political morals of Great Britain.

The British House of Commons, known as the Mother of Parliaments, is an aggregation of slovenly political slobs chosen by remote, arrogant party committees. There are certain ineffective restrictions on the amount that a "party" may spend to elect a candidate but these are meaningless. The candidates thus imposed on a given constituency often are absolute strangers to the electorate. I dined with a twittering ass in a mildewed mansion in London and paid for my meal by submission to three hours of bad manners, who was, himself, M.P. for a district many miles away and knew hardly a hundred voters there. There were, she said, about a dozen other M.P.'s living within a few blocks of his address, all equally incognito in the districts which they represented. They knew little about the local problems of their political bailiwicks and cared less because the British House of Commons is run by small groups of political bosses called committees. They caucus among themselves and lay down the policy to the individual M.P.'s.

To vote against the caucus is heresy, condemned even by the faceless ignoranti who think they rule Britannia. The worst ever said of Aneurin Bevan by his political opponents hardly overstates the case against him. But he and no other practicing quack of the present day has had the originality to say that the Parliament of Britain is not the House of Commons but the caucuses.

The dismal fakers and clods who constitute the membership are openly invited to accept salaries from the treasuries of labor unions not in the guise of pay for fictitious work as union officials but as bribes. The same invitation is open to and acted upon by other members in the service of brewers, shipowners, manufacturers and all manner of other financial interests. In effect, we do the same in Washington, in state Legislatures and county boards and city councils. However, we always have the hypocritical grace to pretend that such pay is given for legal services. Or, in another familiar ruse, we put on the payroll some member of the rascal's family. It is a question whether our system is nicer but it couldn't be more corrupt than the British.

Their congressional pay is as disgracefully low as ours is disgracefully high. One M.P. explained to me that honest chaps could not possibly afford to live in London on the miserable official pay except by "pigging it." This means living together, two or more unsubsidized members, in squalid "diggings" and cooking their tea and rashers on the sooty hob.

France, of course, is beneath consideration by any nation pretending to political decency, let alone dignity. Her cabinets exist in a revolving door. It would be idiotic to ask a Frenchman with a paying business to give up his private concerns for a political tenure that might last no more than 24 hours.

Insurrection Against U.S. Is Likened to Defiant Witnesses

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug 17—A virtual insurrection against the Constitution of the United States is under way among some "Left wing" groups in America. It involves a studied effort to encourage actions in contempt of the Congress of the United States. It amounts to an effort to frustrate the legitimate activities of the committees of Congress in performing their law-writing function.

The latest outcropping of defiance has occurred in connection with the hearings of the House Committee on Un-American Activities which is seeking information concerning Communist infiltration and influence in the theatrical field. Many witnesses not only are invoking the Fifth Amendment by refusing to testify at the New York hearings but are also crying out that the committee has no authority even to call them or investigate their activities. It looks like a concerted move.

THIS TYPE of defiance was urged by the late Albert Einstein, but it has also been seconded by many "Left wing" groups. Even the American Civil Liberties Union, which claims to be disinterestedly concerned only with violations of civil liberties, has questioned the right of a Congressional committee to investigate and says the investigating function is limited only to enactment of "constitutionally permissible legislation." In its report issued in December, 1953, the union says in part:

"No legislature has any right even to 'expose' anything which is not pertinent to constitutionally permissible legislation, just as the executive and the judiciary have no right to exceed their respective constitutional powers."

But what is "constitutionally permissible legislation?" The Congress has a right to rewrite the Constitution itself and to submit the amendments to the people's legislatures. How can it get information on which to base amendments if its inquiries are to be confined only to the existing Constitution and laws permissible under that Constitution?

SEN. HENNINGS, Democrat, of Missouri, chairman of a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, has just issued a questionnaire preparatory to public hearings on the religion clause of the First Amendment to the Constitution. Among its questions are the following:

"Do you believe the free exercise of religion protects atheists in propagating a disbelief in religion?

"Speaking generally and considering the deep emotional nature of religious beliefs, do you feel that the present state of affairs in the United States with respect to the rights expressed in the religion clause is: excellent, good, fair, poor?"

Usually Congress steers clear of all investigations relating to the subject of religion.

It wasn't so long ago that the dismissal of J. B. Matthews as a member of the staff of the Senate subcommittee on governmental operations was forced by three Democratic Senators because of an article about communistic influences in religion which he had written before he was employed by the committee.

FROM ONE END of the country to the other prominent churchmen denounced Matthews, though he merely exercised his right of free speech. Being politically responsive to such pressures, the Senate committee fired Matthews and wouldn't even grant him a hearing. Few protests came from the "totalitarian liberals" who have always been so quick to denounce Congressional committees for allegedly tampering with constitutional rights of individuals.

The committee now headed by Sen. Hennings has, of course, a right to inquire into religious beliefs as they relate to freedom of religion and to get any information needed to strengthen the religion clause of the First Amendment either by a revision of that clause or by such legislation under the existing clause as may be tested in the courts.

It is a safe bet that the "totalitarian liberals" will not attack the Hennings committee. They will continue to exhibit their hostility and to urge non-co-operation only when witnesses are summoned whose testimony might be of assistance in exposing the ramifications of Communist conspiracies. These conspiracies have been proved to exist in certain sections of the theatre, the movies, the press, the church, the schools, the labor unions and the government itself.

DESCRIBING the work of the House Committee on Un-American Activities for the last several years, Chairman Walter said in a formal statement at the New York hearings this week:

"...The committee has made forty - eight recommendations for new legislation by Congress or the strengthening of existing legislation designed to aid the fight against this Communist conspiracy. All but four of these recommendations have been enacted into law in one form or another by the Congress of the United States."

The right of a Congressional committee to acquire information is unlimited. Individuals have a right to refuse to answer and are protected by the Fifth Amendment within certain limits set forth by the courts. Too many persons are abusing the Fifth Amendment by pretending they would be subject to self-incrimination when their real purpose is probably to conceal the illegal or improper acts of others. It is the duty of a citizen to furnish to his government any information he or she possesses about the Communist conspiracy against the United States if it involves the guilt of others.

Bread and Butter Letter

Gainesville, Fla. (AP)—Alachua county jailers accustomed to abuse from prisoners were surprised to receive a postcard from Ernie Thomas, mailed in Jacksonville 60 miles away after he was released from serving a sentence for being drunk. Pink Lemonade Raises Money for Youth Charity

PINK LEMONADE attracts the neighborhood pennies for two boys who are out to assist a worthy charity.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Two enterprising youngsters, Ben and Eric Hall of Huntington, Long Island, New York, are selling pink lemonade and cookies to make money to contribute to PAL (Police Athletic League). PAL provides recreational opportunity for less fortunate city youngsters. It is supported by public contributions.

To help the boys get started and to guarantee a lively business for them, Ben and Eric's mother made a special Circus Pink Lemonade with maraschino cherries and gave them colorful paper plates and cups to use to entice their piggy-bank customers into spending their money. The boys are so enthusiastic over the way their summer project is going they say when they grow up they're going to earn $5000 for PAL, the sum needed to operate a Youth Center serving 1800 children for three months. You'll agree we need more youngsters like Ben and Eric Hall.

Circus Pink Lemonade
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

One-half cup water, ½ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons grated lemon rind, 1 cup lemon juice, ½ cup maraschino cherry juice, 1 quart water, 1 cup raspberries, crushed, 6 to 8 maraschino cherries.

Combine ½ cup water and sugar; cook over low heat, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Heat to boiling point and boil 7 minues; cool. Add lemon rind, lemon juice, cherry juice, 1 quart water and raspberries; mix well. Pour over ice in tall glasses. Top with cherries.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Melon or jellied soup, crackers, cold boiled fresh salmon with mayonnaise, garnished with sliced cucumbers, tomatoes and watercress, heated potato chips, crusty rolls, butter or margarine, hot blackberry roll with vanilla ice cream, coffee, tea, milk.

Mailing of Pleas To Start Sept. 1 In Traffic Cases

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—Beginning Sept. 1, motorists accused of minor traffic violations in any New York state community may plead guilty to the charges by mail.

The "mail-order" system of fines and penalties will be new and mandatory everywhere but in New York city and Nassau county, which already have procedures for answering for minor violations by mail.

THE NEW SYSTEM was established under terms of a law enacted by the 1955 Legislature. Judges still may order personal appearances at their option, and motorists charged with misdemeanors still must appear in court.

The latter includes second speeding arrests and arrests for passing a school bus.

But henceforth a policeman issuing a ticket for a less serious offense must give the driver an application for court permission to plead guilty and pay the penalty by mail.

THE SIGNED FORM, accompanied by the operator's license, will amount to a waiver of the right of arraignment in court and aid of counsel. It also provides space for a statement or explanation and must be notarized.

Police agencies in the state must supply their own forms. In most communities, the Motor Vehicle Department reports, the forms are being printed on the back of the uniform traffic ticket.

The most common violations to which the new system will apply are first speeding offenses, passing a stop sign, improper passing and crossing solid white highway lines.

MOTORISTS who want to plead by mail must list all traffic convictions during the preceding two years. If the judge accepts the application the motorist will be notified of the penalty.

If a fine is ordered and not paid, the motorist then could be hailed into court.

A similar proposal was vetoed in 1954 by former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who said it left a loophole for a person accused of passing a stopped school bus or a second speeding offense.

A SPOKESMAN for the Motor Vehicle Department has said that exemption of those cases, and all misdemeanors, in this year's measure appears to have taken care of that objection.

The bill embodying the approved system was introduced by Sen. Searles G. Schultz, Skaneateles Republican.

Mailing of Pleas To Start Sept. 1 In Traffic Cases

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—Beginning Sept. 1, motorists accused of minor traffic violations in any New York state community may plead guilty to the charges by mail.

The "mail-order" system of fines and penalties will be new and mandatory everywhere but in New York city and Nassau county, which already have procedures for answering for minor violations by mail.

THE NEW SYSTEM was established under terms of a law enacted by the 1955 Legislature. Judges still may order personal appearances at their option, and motorists charged with misdemeanors still must appear in court.

The latter includes second speeding arrests and arrests for passing a school bus.

But henceforth a policeman issuing a ticket for a less serious offense must give the driver an application for court permission to plead guilty and pay the penalty by mail.

THE SIGNED FORM, accompanied by the operator's license, will amount to a waiver of the right of arraignment in court and aid of counsel. It also provides space for a statement or explanation and must be notarized.

Police agencies in the state must supply their own forms. In most communities, the Motor Vehicle Department reports, the forms are being printed on the back of the uniform traffic ticket.

The most common violations to which the new system will apply are first speeding offenses, passing a stop sign, improper passing and crossing solid white highway lines.

MOTORISTS who want to plead by mail must list all traffic convictions during the preceding two years. If the judge accepts the application the motorist will be notified of the penalty.

If a fine is ordered and not paid, the motorist then could be hailed into court.

A similar proposal was vetoed in 1954 by former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who said it left a loophole for a person accused of passing a stopped school bus or a second speeding offense.

A SPOKESMAN for the Motor Vehicle Department has said that exemption of those cases, and all misdemeanors, in this year's measure appears to have taken care of that objection.

The bill embodying the approved system was introduced by Sen. Searles G. Schultz, Skaneateles Republican.

Shades Are Back

The trusty old window shade is making a comeback. Easy to care for and to use, it is now available in pastel colors and metallic weaves. An extra inducement is the room darkening window shade, in two colors, pastel on one side, neutral on the other. These are treated with a special process to completely shut out the light, ideal for nurseries.

Former ILA Head Indicted on Tax Evasion of $32,777

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—Joseph P. Ryan was indicted by a federal grand jury today for an evasion of payment of income taxes totalling $32,777 for the years 1949 through 1952. He is the former head of the International Longshoremen's Association Independent.

The indictment charges Ryan with having failed to report income totalling $81,123 and evading taxes in the $32,777 amount during the years mentioned.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Alfred P. O'Hara, who presented the case to the Grand Jury, said Ryan also is charged with making false claims for dependents.

In 1949 and 1950, Ryan claimed a sister as a dependent and claimed a sister-in-law also as a dependent in 1950, when in fact both had died prior to the years in which they were claimed as dependents, O'Hara said.

Sees HST Asset To GOP Campaign

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R.-Ind.) said today Republicans will welcome as an "asset" to them any campaigning former President Truman carries on for the Democrats in the 1956 presidential contest.

"The American people have the utmost confidence in President Eisenhower and are prefectly satisfied with his record," Capehart said. "I don't think anything Harry Truman says will change their minds."

Truman said in a telephone interview last night he is going to "tear into the Republicans" in a series of speeches beginning at French Lick, Ind., Aug. 27. He said he will talk politics at Mackinac Island, Mich., Aug. 29, in Detroit Sept. 5 at Labor Day rally and at two subsequent Democratic dinners in California.

Former ILA Head Indicted on Tax Evasion of $32,777

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—Joseph P. Ryan was indicted by a federal grand jury today for an evasion of payment of income taxes totalling $32,777 for the years 1949 through 1952. He is the former head of the International Longshoremen's Association Independent.

The indictment charges Ryan with having failed to report income totalling $81,123 and evading taxes in the $32,777 amount during the years mentioned.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Alfred P. O'Hara, who presented the case to the Grand Jury, said Ryan also is charged with making false claims for dependents.

In 1949 and 1950, Ryan claimed a sister as a dependent and claimed a sister-in-law also as a dependent in 1950, when in fact both had died prior to the years in which they were claimed as dependents, O'Hara said.

Sees HST Asset To GOP Campaign

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R.-Ind.) said today Republicans will welcome as an "asset" to them any campaigning former President Truman carries on for the Democrats in the 1956 presidential contest.

"The American people have the utmost confidence in President Eisenhower and are prefectly satisfied with his record," Capehart said. "I don't think anything Harry Truman says will change their minds."

Truman said in a telephone interview last night he is going to "tear into the Republicans" in a series of speeches beginning at French Lick, Ind., Aug. 27. He said he will talk politics at Mackinac Island, Mich., Aug. 29, in Detroit Sept. 5 at Labor Day rally and at two subsequent Democratic dinners in California.

Film to Be Recreation Highlight in Tillson

George Fernandez, director of the summer recreation program at the Tillson school, announced that on Thursday, Aug. 18, a film entitled "The Bandit of Sherwood's Forest," in technicolor, will be shown. Last week 54 children attended the movie.

On Aug. 10, a successful all-day outing was held. A hot dog roast was enjoyed, as well as swimming, and entertainment by individuals in the group.

The ball game scheduled for Thursday with Rosendale was called off due to the rain, and a game of punch ball was played inside the gym instead.

The summer recreation program ends Friday, and Mr. Fernandez said the entire program this summer had been successful. Over 100 children had been served, he said, and they came from many places, such as Long Island, New York city, Connecticut, Canada and Kingston, as well as the local children.

Cites High Costs To Protect Areas From Hurricanes

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—An army engineer general said today "any shore almost anywhere" could be protected from hurricane ravages. But he said the cost would be "staggering."

This was the view of Brig. Gen. E. C. Itschner, head of the Engineers' Civil Works Division which now is drawing up recommendations for possible construction of dams, seawalls and other structures to minimize property damage and loss of life from great storms like those which have been lashing the eastern seaboard.

ITSCHNER said in an interview one possible result of the million-dollar study project now underway might be recommendations that local communities tighten their building codes and modify their zoning laws.

As for erecting protective structures along the coast, he said:

"There is no question but that we could protect any shore almost anywhere if we had to and if we had the funds. But obviously that is out of the question. The cost would be staggering."

EVEN PARTIAL protection of the most vulnerable areas, he said, would be possible only at a "very, very great" cost.

Itschner outlined these two major problems: (1) How to wipe out or minimize destruction caused by extremely high tides and heavy rain runoff in natural bay areas such as Narragansett, R. I., and (2) How to protect exposed beach areas such as those in the Carolinas.

Protection from wave and tide damage, Itschner said, could be provided by seawalls and dikes. But aside from the heavy expense, he said, local inhabitants might object on grounds that their bathing beaches would be marred.

Mother of Airman Is Still Hopeful Of Reconciliation

Portland, Ore., Aug. 18 (AP)—The mother of Daniel C. Schmidt says she has not given up hope of a reconciliation between the young airman and his remarried wife, Una.

The mother, Mrs. Nellie Peters, 43, said last night she would have to hear it from her son that he definitely was through with his wife.

"DANNY NEVER said anything like that to me," said Mrs. Peters, who has talked to her son by telephone since he came home to find Una married to another man. Mrs. Peters has not heard from Schmidt for several days but expects him to visit her soon.

She recalled that her son told her he was going to work out the problem himself but "now others have entered the picture and it doesn't sound like Danny anymore."

Mrs. Peters was refering to a statement by Schmidt's attorney, Howard Welch of Sacramento, that Schmidt has made up his mind he does not want a reconciliation.

"There has been no one trying to get them back together," she said. "Even the lawyers don't seem to want them to try to piece it together again."

Saugerties Area Chamber Adopts Home Yule Lights

A Christmas lighting project which would arrange for local ownership and service was approved at the regular meeting of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night in the Exempt Firemen's rooms at the Municipal Building.

The Christmas Lighting Committee consisting of Herbert Lachmann, chairman, Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., president and Albert J. Cawein, executive secretary investigated projects of various neighboring communities and gave their final approval of the project now in operation in Middletown.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR the lighting program would call for the use of permanent cables secured on buildings across the streets in the business section of the village. The light strings and decorations would be strung on these cables each year by a local contractor who would also take care of replacements. The initial cost of the project was estimated at approximately $3,000 and the yearly maintenance at less than $300. In this plan each merchant with a string of lights on his building plugs the string in his own outlet thus avoiding the necessity for pay electric charges and also the need for booster transformers. Insurance coverage for the entire year was also allowed for by the project.

THE CHAMBER unanimously approved a motion to invite Welcome Wagon, Inc., to initiate its program in the township. The program consists of a hostess calling on new residents of the community, welcoming them, offering premiums from local merchants and also presenting the highlights of the community to the newcomer.

President Reymolds announced the formation of the annual banquet committee to be headed by Arthur London for the affair to be held sometime in November.

A committee was also appointed to investigate the possibilities of establishing a policy in regard to the problem of solicitations of local merchants for prizes, tickets, donations and program booklets.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Historic Tour Well Attended

Woodstock, Aug. 17—The tour of historic spots in the upper section of Woodstock led by Alf Evers, president of the Woodstock Historical Society on the afternoon of Thursday, August 11, came off as scheduled, in spite of the first lashings of Hurricane Connie. More than 30 persons gathered at the Woodstock Reformed Church promptly to hear an informal address by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor, who explained that though the church records dated from 1805, many details of earlier years are lacking. The Kingston First Dutch Church register shows however, that children were baptized in Woodstock by the Kingston ministers as early as 1793, and it is certain that a church building on the Village Green antedated the present edifice by many years.

Second on the tour program was a trip up Ohayo Mountain to the Shell Cabin of Mrs. Joshua Rosett, who proved not only a cordial hostess but a lecturer who could adapt her knowledge of the extensive collection gathered from America and the Orient to the comprehension of visitors, none of whom had made a study of the science of shells. Mrs. Rosett explained that she hesitated to speak on the subject, since her neighbor on the Ohayo, Dr. William K. Gregory, is an internationally known biologist who has recently published a book entitled "Cones" (a kind of shell).

DESCENDING to the valley, the pilgrims were driven to Shady, whose oldtime fascination was at once apparent. Gathering his audience outside the barn belonging to Frederick R. Reynolds which covers a section of the site of the former glass factories (part of the forge where sand was melted is still to be seen in this barn), Mr. Evers gave a short but comprehensive talk on the story of the Glass Houses, especially dwelling on their effect on the economic life of the community. Not only did young men of the neighborhood become skilled in glass making, but practically all the local farmers added to their incomes by wood cutting, teaming and raising addtional crops for consumption of the increased population due to glass making. Thus, while the glass concerns themselves often ran into financial difficulties, the experiments while they lasted (from about 1809 in the earliest glass works at Keefe Hollow, till shortly before the Civil War) were beneficial to the community. A visit was then paid to the attractive home of Mrs. Fred R. Reynolds, who displayed an original land deed from the Livingstons dated in 1843, whereby the family obtained this property, and Mrs. Louise H. Zimm spoke extemporaneously on the system of land leases which preceded the era when farmers were enabled to own their places outright.

The turning mill owned and operated by Craig E. Vosburgh in Shady was next visited. Always a place of great interest, it seemed doubly so on this rainy afternoon, as Mr. Vosburgh set all the wheels and pulleys spinning to illustrate how modern methods have superseded the huge water wheel, which nevertheless is still carefully preserved. Mr. Vosburgh also obligingly demonstrated how a section of "spool" furniture can be turned out in a few moments by a special lathe, and presented the result to one of the pilgrims as a souvenir.

RETURNING towards Woodstock village via the Bearsville road, the party turned off opposite the Jonathan Apple Monument to visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Konrad Cramer, where the Woodstck Historical Society was organized in 1929. The Cramer house was formerly the residence of some of the earliest members of the Riseley family. The original wide planked floor of the entrance hall and living room, the low ceilings and massive beams, with many other quaint architectural features of the old house have been retained intact by its present owners, who have also gathered a wonderful collection of local antiquities to further the old time atmosphere. Mrs. Cramer (Florence Ballin Cramer, well known artist) explained what started as a hobby has gradually become a small but profitable business. Her talk was illustrated not only by the present collection but by the superlative photographs for which the Cramers are noted, showing all stages of their undertakings with the house, as well as striking portraits of early Art Colony personages.

Among those lending cars were Miss Alice Wardwell, Mrs. Louis Bevier, Mrs. Barbara Moncure, Mrs. Florence W. Winters and Mrs. Oxhandler.

During the tour, much favorable comment was heard on the interesting exhibits during the week, not only in the window of the Bank of Orange County, but at the Red Barn, where Mrs. Louise Bolton and Miss Winifred Haile had gathered the most remarkable collection of Woodstock-iana to be seen at any one place since the memorable Woodstock Sesquicentennial in 1937.

Of special interest here was the guest book of the Overlook Mountain House, later used by proprietor George Mead in Mead's Mountain House. Not only is the signature of President U. S. Grant found in 1871, but in 1869 Robert E. Lee, leader of the Confederate forces, was a visitor from Richmond, Va., while at nearly the same time Andrew Johnson, of Washington, D. C., who became President of the United States upon the assassination of Lincoln, came to the hotel. The ledger also indicates that these noted Overlook Mountain resorts attracted celebrities not only from all over the United States but from European countries as far away as Poland. Such visitors were glad to purchase knick-knacks made from pinecones, twigs, etc., made by girls and women in Shady and other valley localities, who carried them up the mountain roads to the hotels and returned the same day. Engaging specimens of this minor craft, along with splendid examples of old milking stools, chairs, etc., and many patterned quilts had been lent by local families to the Red Barn exhibit, and in spite of deluges of rain occurring on practically every afternoon when it was open, a considerable sum was taken in, all of which has been donated to the Historical Society by the public-spirited Red Barn proprietors. It is reported that later in the season the donations to the show by well known artists will also be sold, with proceeds going to the Society.

Sculpture Show Is Impressive

Woodstock, Aug. 17—Sculpture takes preeminence over the drawings in the current exhibition of drawings and sculpture at the Woodstock Art Gallery, which opened Saturday afternoon. Among the many impressive pieces are Harvey Fite's poignant head, titled "Forgive them they know not what they do," as well as his rhythmic marble figure "Cleopatra." Dina Melicov's smoothly handled jockey and rider form a piece in metal with unusual movement. There is a sensitive quality in Sanford Goodman's portrait Study of Pearl in terre cotta, and Hanna Small's "Seated Figure" is composed of robust rounded forms. There is massive and controlled design in Florine M. Solomon's Granada.

Birds have made fine subjects for both Tom Penning's graceful bluestone piece, slender and poised for flight, and simplicity and appeal in Rodney Lethbridge's study.

In the drawing group there is an Oriental feeling of design in Rosemary Villchur's ink drawing of "Rocks," and strength in Helen Gerardia's "Big Tree." "Carnival Figure" by Andree Ruellan is exquisite in drawing.

Ben Karp has also contributed an appealing "Puppy" to the sculptural group.

Favors Overhaul Of Penal Code

Canton, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—An overhauling of New York state's "haphazard" penal code would do more to curb crime than investigations into the dissemination of comic books and lewd publications, a law-revision authority says.

Frank Grad, associate director of the drafting research fund of the Columbia University Law School said yesterday, "legislative committees looking into such spectacular matters . . . might well investigate . . . the possibility of a complete revision of the penal code and relative legislation."

HE SPOKE at the sixth annual Frederick A. Moran Institute on Delinquency and Crime held at St. Lawrence University.

A law-revision inquiry might be "lengthy, laborious and unspectacular, but might in the end serve the people of this state far better than a catch-as-catch-can consideration of immediate but temporary problems," he said.

Daniel Gutman, counsel to Gov. Harriman, said, "There is nothing wrong with the youth of today that is not a reflection of an adult society."

Adults accord children "privileges not the privileges of youth, and complain because the privileges become licenses," he said.

ticing attorney in Kingston and New York city since that time.

HE WAS APPOINTED city treasurer of Kingston Jan. 1, 1922 and served as such until June 12, 1922, when he was sworn in as a special assistant United States Atorney in and for the Southern District of New York, serving under Col. William Hayward and Emory R. Buckner. He was chief of the Prosecuion Bureau which dealt with the prosecution of violators of the Volstead Act and participated in the trial of many cases as such special assistant United States Attorney, appearing both in the District Court and in the Circ-Court of Appeals. On Sept. 30, 1925 he resigned and was appointed Chief Counsel to the then Prohibition Administrator of the State of New York. He served as such counsel until April 1, 1926 when he resigned to practice law in New York city at 51 Chambers street until about the year 1934. During the period that he was in New York city he retained his residence in Kingston, going back and forth each weekend.

In 1934 he returned to Kingston permanently and formed a partnership with Arthur B. Ewig, the firm being known as Cashin & Ewig, which partnership is still in existence, with offices at the present time at 270 Fair street. The firm of Cashin & Ewig has engaged in the general practice of law, specializing in trial work in the Third Judicial District of the State of New York.

On Jan. 1, 1935 he was appointed corporation counsel of the City of Kingston where he served until July 13, 1943, at which time he was appointed by the then Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to the County Court bench in and for the County of Ulster. He was elected County Judge of Ulster county in the fall of 1943 and was re-elected in the fall of 1949, which office he still holds.

The County of Ulster is one of those counties where the office of county judge does not prohibit the incumbent from practicing law and during the period of his judgeship he has been actively practicing his profession in the courts in the Third Judicial District and has specialized in trial work. During his incumbency on the bench of the County Court, he has presided in criminal cases, including murder in the first degree, and also civil cases, and has had an active career as a judge in both the County Court and the Children's Court.

Cites High Costs To Protect Areas From Hurricanes

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—An army engineer general said today "any shore almost anywhere" could be protected from hurricane ravages. But he said the cost would be "staggering."

This was the view of Brig. Gen. E. C. Itschner, head of the Engineers' Civil Works Division which now is drawing up recommendations for possible construction of dams, seawalls and other structures to minimize property damage and loss of life from great storms like those which have been lashing the eastern seaboard.

ITSCHNER said in an interview one possible result of the million-dollar study project now underway might be recommendations that local communities tighten their building codes and modify their zoning laws.

As for erecting protective structures along the coast, he said:

"There is no question but that we could protect any shore almost anywhere if we had to and if we had the funds. But obviously that is out of the question. The cost would be staggering."

EVEN PARTIAL protection of the most vulnerable areas, he said, would be possible only at a "very, very great" cost.

Itschner outlined these two major problems: (1) How to wipe out or minimize destruction caused by extremely high tides and heavy rain runoff in natural bay areas such as Narragansett, R. I., and (2) How to protect exposed beach areas such as those in the Carolinas.

Protection from wave and tide damage, Itschner said, could be provided by seawalls and dikes. But aside from the heavy expense, he said, local inhabitants might object on grounds that their bathing beaches would be marred.

Mother of Airman Is Still Hopeful Of Reconciliation

Portland, Ore., Aug. 18 (AP)—The mother of Daniel C. Schmidt says she has not given up hope of a reconciliation between the young airman and his remarried wife, Una.

The mother, Mrs. Nellie Peters, 43, said last night she would have to hear it from her son that he definitely was through with his wife.

"DANNY NEVER said anything like that to me," said Mrs. Peters, who has talked to her son by telephone since he came home to find Una married to another man. Mrs. Peters has not heard from Schmidt for several days but expects him to visit her soon.

She recalled that her son told her he was going to work out the problem himself but "now others have entered the picture and it doesn't sound like Danny anymore."

Mrs. Peters was refering to a statement by Schmidt's attorney, Howard Welch of Sacramento, that Schmidt has made up his mind he does not want a reconciliation.

"There has been no one trying to get them back together," she said. "Even the lawyers don't seem to want them to try to piece it together again."

Saugerties Area Chamber Adopts Home Yule Lights

A Christmas lighting project which would arrange for local ownership and service was approved at the regular meeting of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night in the Exempt Firemen's rooms at the Municipal Building.

The Christmas Lighting Committee consisting of Herbert Lachmann, chairman, Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., president and Albert J. Cawein, executive secretary investigated projects of various neighboring communities and gave their final approval of the project now in operation in Middletown.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR the lighting program would call for the use of permanent cables secured on buildings across the streets in the business section of the village. The light strings and decorations would be strung on these cables each year by a local contractor who would also take care of replacements. The initial cost of the project was estimated at approximately $3,000 and the yearly maintenance at less than $300. In this plan each merchant with a string of lights on his building plugs the string in his own outlet thus avoiding the necessity for pay electric charges and also the need for booster transformers. Insurance coverage for the entire year was also allowed for by the project.

THE CHAMBER unanimously approved a motion to invite Welcome Wagon, Inc., to initiate its program in the township. The program consists of a hostess calling on new residents of the community, welcoming them, offering premiums from local merchants and also presenting the highlights of the community to the newcomer.

President Reymolds announced the formation of the annual banquet committee to be headed by Arthur London for the affair to be held sometime in November.

A committee was also appointed to investigate the possibilities of establishing a policy in regard to the problem of solicitations of local merchants for prizes, tickets, donations and program booklets.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Historic Tour Well Attended

Woodstock, Aug. 17—The tour of historic spots in the upper section of Woodstock led by Alf Evers, president of the Woodstock Historical Society on the afternoon of Thursday, August 11, came off as scheduled, in spite of the first lashings of Hurricane Connie. More than 30 persons gathered at the Woodstock Reformed Church promptly to hear an informal address by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor, who explained that though the church records dated from 1805, many details of earlier years are lacking. The Kingston First Dutch Church register shows however, that children were baptized in Woodstock by the Kingston ministers as early as 1793, and it is certain that a church building on the Village Green antedated the present edifice by many years.

Second on the tour program was a trip up Ohayo Mountain to the Shell Cabin of Mrs. Joshua Rosett, who proved not only a cordial hostess but a lecturer who could adapt her knowledge of the extensive collection gathered from America and the Orient to the comprehension of visitors, none of whom had made a study of the science of shells. Mrs. Rosett explained that she hesitated to speak on the subject, since her neighbor on the Ohayo, Dr. William K. Gregory, is an internationally known biologist who has recently published a book entitled "Cones" (a kind of shell).

DESCENDING to the valley, the pilgrims were driven to Shady, whose oldtime fascination was at once apparent. Gathering his audience outside the barn belonging to Frederick R. Reynolds which covers a section of the site of the former glass factories (part of the forge where sand was melted is still to be seen in this barn), Mr. Evers gave a short but comprehensive talk on the story of the Glass Houses, especially dwelling on their effect on the economic life of the community. Not only did young men of the neighborhood become skilled in glass making, but practically all the local farmers added to their incomes by wood cutting, teaming and raising addtional crops for consumption of the increased population due to glass making. Thus, while the glass concerns themselves often ran into financial difficulties, the experiments while they lasted (from about 1809 in the earliest glass works at Keefe Hollow, till shortly before the Civil War) were beneficial to the community. A visit was then paid to the attractive home of Mrs. Fred R. Reynolds, who displayed an original land deed from the Livingstons dated in 1843, whereby the family obtained this property, and Mrs. Louise H. Zimm spoke extemporaneously on the system of land leases which preceded the era when farmers were enabled to own their places outright.

The turning mill owned and operated by Craig E. Vosburgh in Shady was next visited. Always a place of great interest, it seemed doubly so on this rainy afternoon, as Mr. Vosburgh set all the wheels and pulleys spinning to illustrate how modern methods have superseded the huge water wheel, which nevertheless is still carefully preserved. Mr. Vosburgh also obligingly demonstrated how a section of "spool" furniture can be turned out in a few moments by a special lathe, and presented the result to one of the pilgrims as a souvenir.

RETURNING towards Woodstock village via the Bearsville road, the party turned off opposite the Jonathan Apple Monument to visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Konrad Cramer, where the Woodstck Historical Society was organized in 1929. The Cramer house was formerly the residence of some of the earliest members of the Riseley family. The original wide planked floor of the entrance hall and living room, the low ceilings and massive beams, with many other quaint architectural features of the old house have been retained intact by its present owners, who have also gathered a wonderful collection of local antiquities to further the old time atmosphere. Mrs. Cramer (Florence Ballin Cramer, well known artist) explained what started as a hobby has gradually become a small but profitable business. Her talk was illustrated not only by the present collection but by the superlative photographs for which the Cramers are noted, showing all stages of their undertakings with the house, as well as striking portraits of early Art Colony personages.

Among those lending cars were Miss Alice Wardwell, Mrs. Louis Bevier, Mrs. Barbara Moncure, Mrs. Florence W. Winters and Mrs. Oxhandler.

During the tour, much favorable comment was heard on the interesting exhibits during the week, not only in the window of the Bank of Orange County, but at the Red Barn, where Mrs. Louise Bolton and Miss Winifred Haile had gathered the most remarkable collection of Woodstock-iana to be seen at any one place since the memorable Woodstock Sesquicentennial in 1937.

Of special interest here was the guest book of the Overlook Mountain House, later used by proprietor George Mead in Mead's Mountain House. Not only is the signature of President U. S. Grant found in 1871, but in 1869 Robert E. Lee, leader of the Confederate forces, was a visitor from Richmond, Va., while at nearly the same time Andrew Johnson, of Washington, D. C., who became President of the United States upon the assassination of Lincoln, came to the hotel. The ledger also indicates that these noted Overlook Mountain resorts attracted celebrities not only from all over the United States but from European countries as far away as Poland. Such visitors were glad to purchase knick-knacks made from pinecones, twigs, etc., made by girls and women in Shady and other valley localities, who carried them up the mountain roads to the hotels and returned the same day. Engaging specimens of this minor craft, along with splendid examples of old milking stools, chairs, etc., and many patterned quilts had been lent by local families to the Red Barn exhibit, and in spite of deluges of rain occurring on practically every afternoon when it was open, a considerable sum was taken in, all of which has been donated to the Historical Society by the public-spirited Red Barn proprietors. It is reported that later in the season the donations to the show by well known artists will also be sold, with proceeds going to the Society.

Sculpture Show Is Impressive

Woodstock, Aug. 17—Sculpture takes preeminence over the drawings in the current exhibition of drawings and sculpture at the Woodstock Art Gallery, which opened Saturday afternoon. Among the many impressive pieces are Harvey Fite's poignant head, titled "Forgive them they know not what they do," as well as his rhythmic marble figure "Cleopatra." Dina Melicov's smoothly handled jockey and rider form a piece in metal with unusual movement. There is a sensitive quality in Sanford Goodman's portrait Study of Pearl in terre cotta, and Hanna Small's "Seated Figure" is composed of robust rounded forms. There is massive and controlled design in Florine M. Solomon's Granada.

Birds have made fine subjects for both Tom Penning's graceful bluestone piece, slender and poised for flight, and simplicity and appeal in Rodney Lethbridge's study.

In the drawing group there is an Oriental feeling of design in Rosemary Villchur's ink drawing of "Rocks," and strength in Helen Gerardia's "Big Tree." "Carnival Figure" by Andree Ruellan is exquisite in drawing.

Ben Karp has also contributed an appealing "Puppy" to the sculptural group.

On Jan. 1, 1935 he was appointed corporation counsel of the City of Kingston where he served until July 13, 1943, at which time he was appointed by the then Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to the County Court bench in and for the County of Ulster. He was elected County Judge of Ulster county in the fall of 1943 and was re-elected in the fall of 1949, which office he still holds.

The County of Ulster is one of those counties where the office of county judge does not prohibit the incumbent from practicing law and during the period of his judgeship he has been actively practicing his profession in the courts in the Third Judicial District and has specialized in trial work. During his incumbency on the bench of the County Court, he has presided in criminal cases, including murder in the first degree, and also civil cases, and has had an active career as a judge in both the County Court and the Children's Court.

Ghostly Call?

Durham, N. C. (AP)—An anonymous caller, whom police later said "might have been a ghost," complained about a disturbance and asked police to investigate. An investigation revealed the address was that of a vacant house, referred to as haunted.

Many peoples believe it is bad luck to kill a stork.

It's almost impossible to lose the game contract in today's hand, but South managed it. Let's examine where he went wrong to see how a player can protect himself from his own bad guesses on a hand of this sort.

West opened the deuce of diamonds, and declarer played low from the dummy. East won with the king of diamonds and returned the suit to dummy's ace. Now declarer tackled the trumps, taking the spade ace and finessing the jack around to West. This did South no good, of course, for West won with the queen and returned a spade.

South next took the ace of hearts and led a small heart towards dummy. West played low without a quiver, and South finessed dummy's 10. East won with the jack of hearts and led a third diamond, forcing South to ruff.

South had already lost three tricks and had to bring in four club tricks to make his contract, so he naturally took the king of clubs and led another club for a finesse. East won, and the contract was down.

When you have a hand of this sort, with a guess in each suit, your best bet is to force the opponents to help you. South should win the first trick in dummy with the ace of diamonds and return a diamond.

As it happens, East has the king of diamonds and must therefore win the second trick. What can East return? If East returns a black suit, declarer gets a free finesse. If East returns a heart, South has no further problem. If East returns a diamond, South can discard a heart while dummy ruffs, and the hand is pretty easy from then on.

It's true that West might have the king of diamonds, for all South can tell. But even West would have serious problems if he were given the lead with a diamond at the second trick. South would almost surely make his contract with ease and peace of mind if he thrust his problems upon the opponents.

Soup on the Rocks

Newest hot-weather food fad appearing in fashionable restaurants from coast to coast is "soup on the rocks." To make it, chill cans of beef bouillon and serve in double-size old-fashioned glasses, poured over ice cubes. You may garnish with a twist of lemon, slice of cucumber or sprig of mint. One can of bouillon makes three servings when poured into nine-ounce glasses over two ice cubes.

U. S. Trying to Avert Crash Like One in '29

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—Taking a tip from the hosiery industry the administration is trying to make s-t-r-e-t-c-h-a-b-l-e good times.

Times right now are undeniably good in most parts of the land. In Washington they believe they can stretch these good times through next year by letting money get tight now. The fact that 1956 is an election year may or may not have something to do with it.

OR, TO CHANGE the figure, the administration isn't trying to put a brake on the boom—it is trying to equip the boom with a governor. It isn't trying to slow down business—now tootling down the highway at record speed—but to keep it from speeding up a lot more and following the traditional course of runaway and crash as in 1929.

That's the way many businessmen size up the present situation. Credit is getting tight. That's why interest rates are slowly rising. It's why banks are luring new deposits by raising the interest they pay depositors, and by seeking new funds from abroad by raising the interest on foreign deposits. It's why one New York bank has called some of its brokers' loans—the first time that's happened since 1953, another tight money period.

Good times are being spelled out on all sides. The summer slump is mild. The federal reserve board reports that while July, as usual, saw industrial production off from June, the drop was less than normally to be expected, so, the board's seasonally adjusted index of output rose to a record high.

CHAIN STORES and mail order firms report summer business running about eight per cent above a year ago—just about what the average for the year has been so far.

Auto production is starting to slow down for the changeover to 1956 models. But steel mills are finding plenty of other business. Hampered by hot weather, vacations, and shutdowns for repair, the mills are still turning out more than two million tons of steel each week. And many of their customers are complaining of delivery delays. Iron ore shipments still pour down the Great Lakes. Tonnage so far this year has topped last by 26 per cent.

HOUSING—another big prop of the current boom—is beginning to slow down, as expected. Fewer homes were started this July than last—and some of the drop may be due to tightening of mortgage terms by lenders.

But commercial and industrial building still takes up the slack. Contract awards in these fields last month were 39 per cent higher than the year before. And there are no signs yet of any letdown in this phase of the building boom.

The consumer shows few signs of cutting back on his spending. Department store sales are running well ahead of last year in most sections of the nation. Much of this due to the rise in both employment totals and in factory pay checks.

THE STOCK MARKET, has stopped to take a second look at the boom. For four weeks prices have been mostly on the downgrade, and volume has been light. In the commodity futures market, traders also have been bearish. Farm product prices have been weak as the prospects of bumper crops raises the total of already high surpluses. The outlook for farmers' incomes isn't nearly as bright as for their city cousins.

Prices of manufactured goods tend higher steadily — an offshoot of the boom that has raised demand for materials and hiked wages.

But despite a few spots, times generally continue very good. And the money managers hope that with a little credit tightening now, good times can be stretched out for quite a while to come.

Tests show that night temperatures next to bluegrass sod can be as much as 6 degrees lower than at shoulder height.

Father Brennan Dies

Cohoes, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—The Rev. William P. Brennan, pastor of St. Bernard's Roman Catholic Church since 1924 died last night in Amsterdam after an illness of one year. He was ordained in 1900 and served overseas as an army chaplain during World War 1.

Autopsy Continues

Freehold, N. J., Aug. 18 (AP)—An investigation into the death of wealthy Charles Hlavac will continue although an autopsy confirmed that brain injuries suffered in an auto crash were what killed him. Hlavac's body was exhumed yesterday from the Grove Church Cemetery in North Bergen, and reburied following the autopsy ordered by Monmouth County Prosecutor Vincent P. Keuper. Hlavac, of New York, died July 7 as a result of the crash on the Garden State Parkway. The car in which he was riding plunged down an embankment after a tire blowout.

In some rural areas 75 per cent of the checks are written in pencil.

More X-rays Planned

Ft. Lewis, Wash., Aug. 17 (AP)—Madigan Army Hospital doctors planned more X-rays today on Pvt. Philip Crosby, 21-year-old son of singer Bing Crosby, to get an exact picture of his back injuries. The young soldier's car went off a highway at Raymond, in southwestern Washington, into a riverbed Sunday and he suffered a fracture of one or more vertebrae. His doctors allowed him to be brought here yesterday in a 100-mile three-hour ambulance trip. He had to wear a traction on his neck but his back was not in a cast.

Brazil has increased the number of her airports from 140 to 270 in the last five years, says the National Geographic Society.

See Suicide Try

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—Jeanne Cook, 32, of 2 Jane place, Baldwin, N. Y., was found unconscious in front of 3510 Bainbridge avenue, the Bronx, early today and taken to Fordham Hospital for observation, police reported. Her condition at the hospital was termed fair. Police listed the case as an attempted suicide and said Miss Cook had swallowed some unidentified substance.

Collapse Kills 13

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 18 (AP)—Thirteen persons were killed yesterday in the collapse of a five-story house in the Musky District of Cairo. Police said the dead included 10 women and three men. Firemen rescued 23 persons from the debris.

Parents Warned On Play Danger

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren today issued a warning to parents that they should keep children from playing in and around buildings which are under construction.

The police, many times in the past have received reports of injuries suffered by children in buildings under construction and the grounds around them, and they have also been notified of damage to property and materials.

Chief VanBuren said he had been requested by contractors and owners of properties to seek the cooperation of parents and all citizens to keep the children out of such danger and mischief.

New Highway Planned

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—James S. Bixby, district director of the New York State Department of Public Works, announced plans here yesterday for an eight-mile thruway type of highway to run from the Croton river through Croton-on-Hudson to the southern section of Peekskill. The new highway, which has not yet been designed in detail, is estimated to cost 7½ million dollars. It will substitute for a stretch of Route 9, the old Albany Post road, which has a long record of auto crashes, fatalities and congestion. The stretch was last reconstructed in 1923.

Caught in Undertow

Point Pleasant Beach, N. J., Aug. 18 (AP)—Mrs. Ricka Lutze of 1 Wridgely Court, Mineola, N. Y., drowned in the ocean here when she was caught in an undertow yesterday. The woman had been swimming at Bradshaw's Beach at the foot of Washington avenue. A friend, Mrs. Eva Marie Vandestinon, found Mrs. Lutze floating face down in the water and helped an unidentified man carry her to shore. Mrs. Lutze, believed to be in her 60s, was visiting relatives who have a summer home here.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

Shoppers in the nation's food stores will find a tempting variety of meats on the list of specials this weekend.

In beef, round roast will be a favorite and boneless chuck pot roast also will be popular. Steaks and prime ribs, however, will be a couple of cents a pound higher than a week ago in some stores. Elsewhere, there'll be no price change.

LOINS OF PORK will be a feature in some parts of the country. Few markets will offer specials on legs of lamb, but there will be good buys in lamb shoulder roasts.

Veal, never particularly popular as a weekend attraction, will be offered at sale prices in a number of markets. Veal shoulder roast will be the favorite cut.

Only a few stores plan to feature frying and stewing chickens, although prices generally will be no higher than a week ago.

The rise in egg prices goes on. Increases of two cents a dozen on large grade "A" whites are planned in stores in many sections of the country. Butter prices show little change.

PORK PRICES should start coming down in the months immediately ahead. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says farmers expect to market considerably more hogs during this half of the year than they did in the same months of 1954. Abundant supplies should bring lower prices.

Eating pork this fall will help farmers in several ways. The USDA points out that when you eat pork you're also consuming some of the plentiful supply of feed grains. In most years, more than four bushels out of every 10 bushels of corn is sold through hogs.

Stormy weather sent vegetable prices up in some sections of the country during the week, but the list of good buys offers a good variety, nevertheless. Produce men recommend onions, potatoes, peppers, tomatoes, eggplant, cabbage, pascal celery, and iceberg, Romaine and big Boston lettuce.

In the "moderately priced" classification — meaning they're not bargains, but not too expensive either—are beans, cauliflower, corn and cucumbers.

CANTALOUPES and honeydew melons are rated as good buys, with prices remaining at what probably will be the lowest levels of the season. Watermelons and limes continue abundant.

Peach prices, which started out at a very high level, continue to drift lower. They took another drop this week.

Oranges and grapefruit are described as moderately priced by fruit specialists.

Bullet Stays in Heart

El Paso, Ill. (AP)—Andrew J. Stephens has a .22 caliber bullet lodged in his heart and there is little he can do about it. An examination by a Chicago heart specialist showed that there would be more danger in removing the bullet than in allowing it to remain in his heart muscle. Stephens was accidentally shot when his cousin, Beulah Wanger, handed him a gun.

In the "moderately priced" classification — meaning they're not bargains, but not too expensive either—are beans, cauliflower, corn and cucumbers.

CANTALOUPES and honeydew melons are rated as good buys, with prices remaining at what probably will be the lowest levels of the season. Watermelons and limes continue abundant.

Peach prices, which started out at a very high level, continue to drift lower. They took another drop this week.

Oranges and grapefruit are described as moderately priced by fruit specialists.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

Shoppers in the nation's food stores will find a tempting variety of meats on the list of specials this weekend.

In beef, round roast will be a favorite and boneless chuck pot roast also will be popular. Steaks and prime ribs, however, will be a couple of cents a pound higher than a week ago in some stores. Elsewhere, there'll be no price change.

LOINS OF PORK will be a feature in some parts of the country. Few markets will offer specials on legs of lamb, but there will be good buys in lamb shoulder roasts.

Veal, never particularly popular as a weekend attraction, will be offered at sale prices in a number of markets. Veal shoulder roast will be the favorite cut.

Only a few stores plan to feature frying and stewing chickens, although prices generally will be no higher than a week ago.

The rise in egg prices goes on. Increases of two cents a dozen on large grade "A" whites are planned in stores in many sections of the country. Butter prices show little change.

PORK PRICES should start coming down in the months immediately ahead. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says farmers expect to market considerably more hogs during this half of the year than they did in the same months of 1954. Abundant supplies should bring lower prices.

Eating pork this fall will help farmers in several ways. The USDA points out that when you eat pork you're also consuming some of the plentiful supply of feed grains. In most years, more than four bushels out of every 10 bushels of corn is sold through hogs.

Stormy weather sent vegetable prices up in some sections of the country during the week, but the list of good buys offers a good variety, nevertheless. Produce men recommend onions, potatoes, peppers, tomatoes, eggplant, cabbage, pascal celery,

Johnson's Gift of Dry Flies Pleases Ike the Fisherman

Philetus Johnson of 249 Clinton avenue is a master in the art of tickling the palates of fish—trout, that is.

He's been tickling them for a number of years, being an ardent Izaak Walton—as is Mrs. Johnson.

What's different though is that he tickles these palates with flies he makes himself—dry flies.

RECENTLY he tickled President Eisenhower himself with a handsome set of these vivid, skillfully wrought dry flies—33 of them—scaled delicately, irresistibly (to fish) in a wide range of color nuances. The very latest for Lady Trout!

"Thank you so much for your kindness in making for me such a fine assortment of dry flies," the President wrote in a letter dated July 28. "I greatly appreciate your thoughtfulness.

"From the card, Esopus Creek looks like an intriguing stream. I hope you have many hours of enjoyment there this summer. With best wishes, Sincerely, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

IT'S FASCINATING to watch the "master" at work — the clamp with a small trout hook in its teeth and a spread of small delicate tools before him. Arranged at hand is a most remarkable assortment of carefully preserved furs and feathers from which Mr. Johnson chooses his materials. The furs may be rabbit or beaver, etc. The feathers may be anything from peacocks and golden pheasants to a brilliant array of gamecock hackles (feathers around the neck of the gamecock).

The hook is in the clamp. The maestro warms a lump of wax and rubs it lightly on a strand of finest silk thread which he then wraps about the shank of the hook. He then takes a tuft of feather, carefully prunes it to size and winds it tightly to the shank with thread.

HE THEN TAKES a short piece of colored yarn and wraps it around the base of the shank. "That gives you the body." Now he takes a short piece of hackle (feather), attaches the base of the feather to the hook shank with thread and then winds the feather itself around the hook. The feather springs out bristly hair-like fibers in a circle about the hook, giving the hook a hairy, bug-like quality so ravishing to the palate of the fish.

This about does it—a little simplified, of course. Mr. Johnson now finishes off the palatable little morsel with a fast-drying lacquer which seals the thread and feather fibers around the hook. "I put lots of winding on them so they will stay." Of the lacquer he says, "it dries while you're asking me a question."

THE FLY is now examined critically under a magnifying glass. Here and there the "old pro" detects a fiber out of line. Somehow the symmetry may appear slightly awry. He plucks carefully with tweezers or snips precisely with special scissors—"some straight, some curved, some fine."

He says he guesses he's an "old fusspot" for taking such care but, in reality, it's just the perfectionism of the true artist.

Making dry flies, we should hasten to make clear, is only a hobby with Mr. Johnson.

When this reporter suggested, somewhat gingerly, that there must be a rather considerable demand for his flies—meaning the commercial market, of course—Mr. Johnson pointed out that they "are not for sale." He makes gifts of some of them to his friends, however, and he and Mrs. Johnson drop them tantalizingly before the popping eyes of unsuspecting trout in streams of the area, Lanesville creek, in particular.

MAKING DRY FLIES (the kind that sort of float on top of the water) is just a hobby with Mr. Johnson. It got started about three years ago, after he and Mrs. Johnson had some difficulty with poorly fabricated commercial flies that sort of disintegrated on the hook after a short time.

Mr. Johnson watched his nephew, Henry "Hank" Bernstein tie a fly on a hook one day. So, he thought he'd take a crack at one. That's how it all started. He became fascinated with it and adopted the fabrication of dry flies as a hobby.

He's had good luck with his fishing, he and Mrs. Johnson. They don't go after the big ones so much, though. Most of their catch averages a little under two pounds. "We enjoy getting out in the air."

NEVERTHELESS, as if to belie his claim, a huge out-size dry fly big enough to land a whale hangs on the wall above him, with the following inscription:

"May the good Lord grant
"That some day
"Even I
"Might catch a fish
"Big enough to take this fly."

A display of tackles, tools, dry flies, etc., including the letter from the White House, will be on display at Potters Bros., sporting goods store, 294 Fair street, beginning tomorrow.

Kills Divorcee, Self

Clifton, N. J., Aug. 18 (AP)—A tall brunette divorcee was shot and killed today by a friend who then fired a fatal bullet into himself, police said. Dead were Mrs. Pearl L. Arthus, of 34 Garrabandt road, and Michael Wieland, 59, of 116-13 Jamaica avenue, Forest Hills, Queens, N. Y. Police termed the case "murder and suicide." They said Wieland fired the fatal shots.

16 Hurt in Fighting

Saarbruecken, Saar, Aug. 18 (AP)—Nine pro-German demonstrators and seven policemen were wounded in street fighting when a mob of several thousand tried to storm Saar Premier Johannes Hoffmann's "European-ization" rally last night, it was announced officially today. Police fired tear gas bombs after their clubs failed to halt the threatening crowd around a meeting hall in Neuenkirchen, Saar steel town. Demonstrators hurled stones and tried to pry open the entrance with flag sticks.

Blanche Sparling Weds Carl Peter in Saugerties, Sunday

Miss Blanche Aina Sparling, daughter of Mrs. Elsa Sparling of Ulster avenue, Saugerties, was married Sunday to Carl George Peter, son of Mrs. Fred Hinrichs, 110 Partition street at St. Mary's Church, in Saugerties. The Rev. John A. Gallagher performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Wesley J. Sparling. Her gown was of French imported rosepoint lace fashioned with a long bodice, a portrait neckline set off with sequins and seed pearls and softly draped lace, and tiny shirred sleeves with matching gauntlets. Her bouffant skirt featured an antique taffeta bow forming a bustle effect and antique taffeta draped over lace to form a chapel length train. Her three-tiered veil of French illusion was caught to a headpiece of matching lace and she carried a nosegay of white and pink roses with glamellias and lace, and cascades of lily of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Sarah L. Thornton of Saugerties, wore a gown of pale aqua nylon chiffon with a softly draped bodice, waltz length skirt of chiffon over nylon net and a modified Juliet cap of chiffon and pearls. She carried a bouquet of petal pink gladioli cascades with ivy.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Margaret Anne Curley, Tonita Sange, Janet McCaig and Janet McConekey, all of Saugerties. They wore petal pink gowns similar to that of the honor attendant and their bouquets were of deeper rose gladioli.

Miss Dianne Sheehan of Saugerties was the flower girl. She was dressed in a gown of off-shoulder effect and three-tiered skirt of pale aqua taffeta and nylon tulle, muted by an overskirt of white tulle and set off with pink forget-me-nots and green leaves. Her headpiece matched her gown and she carried a basket of pink gladioli florets trimmed with ivy.

William Peter, brother of the bridegroom, was best man with James McCormick, Clark Donlon, Raymond Wolven and Joseph Maines as ushers. Mark Sparling was the ringbearer.

Following a reception at the Flamingo Restaurant for 150 guests, the couple left on a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains. The traveling costume of the bride was a cocoa two-piece silk dress with sweater top and a cocoa zymbidium corsage. The couple will make their home in Simmons Park, Barclay Heights, Saugerties.

The bride is a graduate of Saugerties High School and has served as a dental assistant for Dr. Irving Dreishpoon of Saugerties. Mr. Sparling attended St. Pascal's Babylon, St. Luke's of the Bronx and is a graduate of Samuel Gompers High School in the Bronx. He served two years with the Marine Corps and is currently employed with a wholesale bread distributing company.

Aledra Good Weds Nelson Fry; to Make Home in Illinois

Aledra Joan Good and Nelson Lee Fry, both of Woodstock, were united in marriage Sunday at the Dutch Reformed Church in Woodstock in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Harvey Todd.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Good of Woodstock and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Fry of Grafton, Ill.

The bride was given in marrige by her father. She wore a dress of white tulle over taffeta, fashioned with a scoop neckline, puff sleeves and a cascade of ruffles down one side of her bouffant ballerina length skirt. A chapel length veil decorated with white polka dots at the tip was attached to a crown of white leaves. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley.

Joan Walder of Olive Bridge was maid of honor wearing a frock of ice blue taffeta designed with a V-neckline, long torso and full skirt. She wore a pale yellow rose corsage.

Joseph Raymond of Bearsville was best man and Sherman Funk and Jules Viglielmo, both of Woodstock, were the ushers.

A reception for 50 guests was held at the bride's home in Woodstock. The couple then left for a trip to the Middle West. For traveling, Mrs. Fry chose a blue check suit with accordion-pleated skirt and white accessories. They will make their home in Champaign, Ill.

Mrs. Fry is a graduate of Onteora Central School in Boiceville and a former employe of IBM. Her husband is a graduate of Jerseyville Community High School in Illinois. He spent four years in the air force, and is a former employe of IBM. In the fall he will attend the University of Illinois.

EMPLOYE-EMPLOYER SITUATION

A secretary tells me: "Every now and then I have to work late at the office. When this happens my employer usually takes me out to dinner and then drives me home. We both live in the suburbs and he has to practically pass my house to get to his. He is married and has a family. I am unmarried. It never entered my head that there could possibly be anything wrong in this until I overheard some of the girls in the office gossiping about it. I am very much distressed and would like to know if there is anything improper in my going to dinner and driving home with him."

If his wife is in any way being made unhappy by people gossiping to her, you certainly should not do it.

Taking Lone Girl Home

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening as my girl friend and I were coming out of the movies, we met a girl friend of hers and we offered her a lift home. When we arrived at her house, I did not get out of the car but merely waited until she was safely inside the house before driving away. My girl friend criticized me for this and said that I should have gotten out of the car and walked to the door with her. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

Answer: Unless the street were well lighted and the distance she would have had to walk very short, you should have walked to the door with her.

Gift for Golden Anniversary

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been invited to the fiftieth wedding anniversary of friends. Inasmuch as this couple have practically everything in the way of household furnishings, would it be proper to send a gift of money?

Answer: Don't send money. Flowers are always suitable.

What type of music is played for the wedding reception? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-2, includes this and other details on formal wedding procedures. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Check on System

stand it. Then, the first step after that is the selection of the proper remedy or remedies to be applied.

What is a juvenile delinquent, or delinquent behavior? Most all of the experts agree that "delinquent behavior is the product of an individual's reaction to the various stresses to which he is exposed and which he is unable to meet in a socially accepted manner." Or, reducing that to its simplest form, "he can't take it."

What makes a juvenile delinquent? It is definitely a social problem and, I believe, a sad commentary on our social system that has permitted this condition to grow to the ugly proportions that it has in a great many communities.

It has been held by some students of this problem that the formation of delinquent traits and habits is usually, or at least in part, derived from a complicated set of human reactions, aided and abetted in part by bodily health, mental health and degree of intelligence.

LET US, therefore, ask these questions and, in the answers to these questions, we may find some solution to this vexing problem.

1. Did this situation first start when, due to the pressure of war and economic conditions, women left the home and found employment in factories and offices and left the care of their children to others?
2. Can it be that broken homes have contributed to the increase in juvenile delinquency? Is the answer in the field of education and domestic relations?
3. Has there been a let-down in the religious teachings of our youth and too little attention paid to the spiritual values of life?
4. Is adult behavior, according to present day standards, a contributing factor in juvenile misbehavior?
5. Are parents, in some instances, too soft with their children, pampering and spoiling them and not willing to admit at times that their children could be wrong?
6. Is there any connection between the chaos that exists in the world today and juvenile misbehavior because of a possible loss of faith in the adult world and the influence of corruption and disloyalty by men in high places to whom ordinarily the youth would look to as an example?
7. In the field of education, is the so-called old-fashioned spirit of patriotism being supplanted by progressive education and not enough emphasis placed on American accomplishments?
8. Are our young people as intensely proud of being Americans? Do they have the respect and love of country that the youth of twenty-five years ago displayed?
9. Among the delinquents, it is quite apparent that they do not respect authority. What can be done to inculcate in their minds a respect for authority, be it parental, educational, religious or otherwise?
10. Has there been a gradual attempt to stifle ambition?
11. What affect, if any, do the gangster movies and TV shows have on the behavior pattern of young people where they seek to glorify crime and criminals?
12. Are we agreed that certain comic books, magazines and other literature that specialize in sex, crime and the like contribute to the delinquency pattern?

THERE IS an old adage that the devil finds work for idle hands to do. Is not the answer, therefore, in giving the hands and the mind sufficient to occupy them so that there is no time left for mischief?

The speakers that are to follow me will, I believe, answer many of the questions that I have propounded. However, in the time at my disposal, I can summarize very generally my beliefs with respect to this matter. A recreational program that is all-embracing including youngsters, teenagers and adults is to be desired. Statistics have shown that young people who do get into trouble are those who have not been touched by any of the recreational agencies, public or private. If we can reach them or that group, I believe it will help.

A THOROUGH revaluation of our educational, penal, religious and other related social systems is a must. A return to the more basic and fundamental principles of real Americanism, respect for home and parents, are, in my opinion, the foundation stones to a sound program. It is very definitely our problem. We must find an answer and, if this commission after listening to all the speakers, not only here today, but all over the state, will sift the wheat from the chaff, I believe, that they can recommend a program that the people generally will accept and, above all, one that will be workable.

Detective Slayer Shoots Policeman

Chicago, Aug. 18 (AP)—A 26-year-old ex-convict, hunted for the killing of a detective Monday night, shot and seriously wounded a rookie policeman in a gun fight last night in a movie theater.

The slayer, believed wounded, fled from the theater while some 250 persons watched the movie. Several persons screamed as the policeman and the hunted gunman exchanged shots but police said there was no panic.

Police, with top-ranking officers in charge, intensified their search for the gunman, Richard Carpenter, who Monday night killed Detective William J. Murphy, 34, in a gun battle in a subway station.

THE SUMMER STAGE

"Next of Kin"

Lonnie Coleman's first attempt at drama, "Next of Kin" opened to a near-full house at the Hyde Park Playhouse Tuesday with Ruth White in the lead.

The story was the oft-used one of a mother who is overly maternal to both children and husband, and is suddenly faced with the disunity of the family, including her husband's abandonment. But it had a slightly new twist—the mother realizes what's happening and, figuratively and literally, unties the apron strings to start a life of her own.

Ruth White, as Alma Hill, the mother, was alone worth the price of admission. Miss White had the first night audience applauding each time she spoke in the last scene. Miss White is a Broadway and TV veteran and in this performance, looked like one. She played her role with understanding and with so much feeling that at times she cried actual tears.

Mary Fenney provided the comedy relief as Alma's close friend very adequately. The audience was all hers in the scene in which she tells Alma why she doesn't care if her husband runs around with other women.

George Mitchell portrays the fed-up father and husband with feeling, if not with subtlety. Although his performance would go well in a larger theatre or on television, it was a little overpowering for the small stage and orchestra at Hyde Park.

John Conwell, a member of the resident company at Hyde Park, played the frustrated older son, Gordon Hill, very well. The role called for a change in feeling from the audience from sympathy to disfike, a change which Mr. Conwell put across nicely.

Mary Doyle as the daughter Virginia was excellent, as was Richard Morse, who played the younger son, Billy. It seems as though both are on their way as future stars. Miss Doyle, while not the conventionally pretty type, was very appealing as the mixed-up daughter who is disappointed in her love of a medical student. Morse should appeal to movie and TV-viewers and his performance at Hyde Park showed him to be an actor of capability.

Supporting roles were played by Harry Williams, George Quick and a Katchie Torrence.

The producers of the play, George Quick and Polly Jo McCullouch would like to take "Next of Kin" to Broadway this season. If they do, they will have to speed up the first act and add a little more sophisticated dialogue for New York audiences.

Over all, the play is well worth seeing before it ends next week, especially for Ruth White's performance.

Conservation Quiz Given To Ulster Garden Club

The Ulster Garden Club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Herbert Cutler in Palenville and took part in a conservation quiz conducted by Mrs. William Benschoten, head of the conservation committee.

In the absence of Mrs. Frances Leggette, president, Mrs. William Hasbrouck presided. Tea was served at the home of Mrs. A. C. White with Mrs. Hasbrouck and Mrs. Clement Chase pouring.

Military Code Given

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—A new military code calls on every captured fighting man to withstand enemy pressure to the utmost, but to avoid at all costs disclosure of vital military information and disloyalty to his country or his comrades. Drawing on experiences in the Korean war, it recognized that physical and mental torture can force a man to the breaking point. It proposes idealistic standards and indoctrination to keep that breaking point high.

LAURETTA BALKEMA

MISS LAURETTA BALKEMA'S engagement was announced yesterday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Balkema of Newport, Mich. She will wed John E. Marquardt of Woodstock next summer. Miss Balkema is visiting her sister, Mrs. Stanley Skora of Orchard Park.

Says Ike to Run

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield says he believes President Eisenhower will seek reelection next year. Summerfield made the prediction yesterday in a press conference at the 51st annual convention of the National Rural Letter Carriers Assn. The postmaster general, who directed President Eisenhower's campaign in 1952, told reporters: "It is my opinion that President Eisenhower will acquiesce in the wishes of the people and the needs of the country and the world. It is now certainly apparent that he enjoys the confidence of the people, not only in this country but everywhere."

Lackawack Man Is

Police headquarters on the fair grounds by Trooper John Ehre of Troop K and there he alleged he was questioned by the troopers and Sergeant William Hanley. Mierop testified he had been told to give up the clock but declined to do so on the grounds he had won it. It is alleged he then threw it to the ground and smashed it.

AT THIS POINT Mierop testified he was grabbed by two troopers and a wrestling episode took place. Sergeant Hanley told the court it took 15 minutes to restrain Mierop and that he and two troopers finally handcuffed Mierop.

Mierop in court testified he had been made to sit on a chair with a trooper on each side and was struck in the face and his eye was blackened. He alleged he had been made to lie on the ground for two hours before being taken to a hospital. He was taken to the Middletown State Hospital where he was held until his mother retained Mr. Schick. Following an investigation by Schick Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth of the Supreme Court issued a writ of habeas corpus which was made returnable before Judge O'Gorman of Orange county at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, when Dr. Hyman Pleasure produced the relator.

At the hearing Dr. Pleasure produced a commitment signed by Justice of the Peace Hulse of the town of Wallkill, Orange county, committing Mierop to the state hospital.

AT THIS POINT Schick objected to the committment, stating that Justice Hulse violated due process of law of both the Federal and State constitution in that the justice at no time had jurisdiction of Peter Mierop; that at no time had he been arraigned or advised as to the nature of the charge and that he had failed to advise relator as to his constitutional rights in that he was entitled to counsel at all stages of the proceeding. Further that there had been no examination of defendant as a basis for the committment and also that there were numerous other irregularities.

AT THE HEARING in addition to the Justice, Trooper Ehre, Sergeant Hanley and Mierop testified. Sergeant Hanley denied the allegation that Mierop had been struck, as did Trooper Ehre.

At the conclusion of the testimony Judge O'Gorman heard legal arguments and sustained contention of Schick that the justice of the peace never acquired jurisdiction and he ordered the relator discharged from custody and signed an order of discharge which was served on the director of the Middletown State Hospital and the relator was returned home.

In answer to a request for an adjournment Schick objected on the grounds the relator was illegally in custody, that to consent to an adjournment would mean further illegal retention of the relator and he requested a continuance of the matter which was consented to by Judge O'Gorman who indulgently continued the matter until its conclusion.

Judge Piper Dies

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—State Supreme Court Justice R. Foster Piper died in the Buffalo General Hospital today following a short illness. He was 66. Piper served in the Appellate Division, Fourth Department and was one of the state's leading authorities on insurance and village law. He entered the hospital Aug. 1. A spokesman at the hospital said the justice was in ill health but that his death was unexpected.

stand it. Then, the first step after that is the selection of the proper remedy or remedies to be applied.

What is a juvenile delinquent, or delinquent behavior? Most all of the experts agree that "delinquent behavior is the product of an individual's reaction to the various stresses to which he is exposed and which he is unable to meet in a socially accepted manner." Or, reducing that to its simplest form, "he can't take it."

What makes a juvenile delinquent? It is definitely a social problem and, I believe, a sad commentary on our social system that has permitted this condition to grow to the ugly proportions that it has in a great many communities.

It has been held by some students of this problem that the formation of delinquent traits and habits is usually, or at least in part, derived from a complicated set of human reactions, aided and abetted in part by bodily health, mental health and degree of intelligence.

LET US, therefore, ask these questions and, in the answers to these questions, we may find some solution to this vexing problem.

1. Did this situation first start when, due to the pressure of war and economic conditions, women left the home and found employment in factories and offices and left the care of their children to others?
2. Can it be that broken homes have contributed to the increase in juvenile delinquency? Is the answer in the field of education and domestic relations?
3. Has there been a let-down in the religious teachings of our youth and too little attention paid to the spiritual values of life?
4. Is adult behavior, according to present day standards, a contributing factor in juvenile misbehavior?
5. Are parents, in some instances, too soft with their children, pampering and spoiling them and not willing to admit at times that their children could be wrong?
6. Is there any connection between the chaos that exists in the world today and juvenile misbehavior because of a possible loss of faith in the adult world and the influence of corruption and disloyalty by men in high places to whom ordinarily the youth would look to as an example?
7. In the field of education, is the so-called old-fashioned spirit of patriotism being supplanted by progressive education and not enough emphasis placed on American accomplishments?
8. Are our young people as intensely proud of being Americans? Do they have the respect and love of country that the youth of twenty-five years ago displayed?
9. Among the delinquents, it is quite apparent that they do not respect authority. What can be done to inculcate in their minds a respect for authority, be it parental, educational, religious or otherwise?
10. Has there been a gradual attempt to stifle ambition?
11. What affect, if any, do the gangster movies and TV shows have on the behavior pattern of young people where they seek to glorify crime and criminals?
12. Are we agreed that certain comic books, magazines and other literature that specialize in sex, crime and the like contribute to the delinquency pattern?

THERE IS an old adage that the devil finds work for idle hands to do. Is not the answer, therefore, in giving the hands and the mind sufficient to occupy them so that there is no time left for mischief?

The speakers that are to follow me will, I believe, answer many of the questions that I have propounded. "Will you please take off your space helmet before you wash your face?"

Entries Heavy For Dutchess County Fair

Entries for the 110th Dutchess County Fair in Rhinebeck, have swamped the office of Mrs. Joseph Bruyette, superintendent of entries. The fair opens a five day, five night stand Saturday, Aug. 27.

"I'm beginning to wonder where we're going to put all the exhibits this year," said Mrs. Bruyette as she surveyed the stack of entries on her desk to be checked.

Richard C. Murray, fair secretary, had the answer to the question of space requirements. He said additional tents already had been ordered for the anticipated overflow. But he cautioned that fair officials would have to "stick to deadlines on entries" because when the extra tents are filled, no further space would be available.

MEANWHILE, the president of the fair, Pierre Cookingham, announced new features which will be part of the fair.

He said Miss Nancy Woodruff, Miss Rheingold of 1955, would attend the Rhinebeck event. The Schaefer train also will be on the grounds.

Another big extra will be the appearance of the famed Anheuser-Busch eight-horse team of Clydsdale horses—known to every television fan who has viewed a Budweiser show. The brewery team will be on the grounds all five days, and will give demonstrations every day.

IRISH HORAN'S Hell Drivers, an additional grandstand attraction on Wednesday, Aug. 31, announced they will unveil their new turbo-jet automobile at Rhinebeck. This powerful bomb on wheels will be used as a projectile that will be catapulted from a large cannon.

With the first Sunday showing of a Dutchess County Fair on August 28, Mr. Cookingham said he expected an all-time record attendance that day. In the interest of "distributing" the crowd, the fair officials have designated Saturday and Wednesday as free to children, to encourage family groups to visit the showgrounds on the opening and closing days and thus relieving the Sunday pressure.

Entries Heavy For Dutchess County Fair

Entries for the 110th Dutchess County Fair in Rhinebeck, have swamped the office of Mrs. Joseph Bruyette, superintendent of entries. The fair opens a five day, five night stand Saturday, Aug. 27.

"I'm beginning to wonder where we're going to put all the exhibits this year," said Mrs. Bruyette as she surveyed the stack of entries on her desk to be checked.

Richard C. Murray, fair secretary, had the answer to the question of space requirements. He said additional tents already had been ordered for the anticipated overflow. But he cautioned that fair officials would have to "stick to deadlines on entries" because when the extra tents are filled, no further space would be available.

To Ask Indictment

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—The Clinton county district attorney says he will ask a grand jury to return a first-degree murder indictment against Arthur La Salle in the death of his eight-months pregnant wife. Thomas R. North made the statement yesterday following an inquest into the July 19 shooting and beating of Mrs. Florence La Salle, 35. He said he would ask for a charge of first-degree murder in Mrs. La Salle's death and for a charge of first-degree manslaughter in the death of the unborn child.

Oops! Slow Down!

BEST CUT SPRING LAMB 16¢ lb.

Oh, for the days when meat prices read like the one above! Sounds hard to believe, doesn't it — but that was the price of lamb advertised in May, 1905, newspapers throughout New York State. Today it's 75¢ lb.

In that era, too, food budgets had to be watched by thrifty housewives. One of the favorite ways to provide a good-tasting, nourishing meal in those days, omitting meat from the menu, was to serve the family's favorite ... a dish of savory baked beans. Grandma Brown's Home Baked Beans, today, serve this same purpose — as a replacement for high-priced meat. Their old-fashioned goodness assure these New York State style beans a ready welcome from all the family. Get a can or two at your grocers tomorrow

Binnewater Man Helps Voiceless To Talk Again

Teaching the voiceless to talk is one of the remarkable attainments of modern-day science and a program to which George Craft of Binnewater is devoting his time and effort.

Mr. Craft has recently returned from a three-weeks post graduate scholarship students course in Esophageal Speech and Organic Voice problems sponsored by the United States government and the University of Miami School of Medicine attended by 34 holders of degrees in the field of speech from the United States and Canada. He also attended the fourth annual convention of the International Association of Laryngectomees at Miami Beach, Fla.

One of the objectives adopted at the convention was to solicit the cooperation of doctors who have patients about to undergo larynx operations to contact a laryngectomee, who will be able to give the patient advice before the operation on Esophageal speech, enabling the patient to learn to talk immediately after the operation.

MR. CRAFT is interested in the promulgation of esophageal speech among such intended patients in this area and would be most happy to discuss it with the patient or physician.

Prior to Mr. Craft's training, New York city was the nearest location to which patients had access for this particular speech training.

It was explained by Mr. Craft that there are 1,000 to 1,500 victims of cancer of larynx every year in the United States, people who find themselves facing the world suddenly mute. Removal by surgery is necessary to prevent the spread of the malignancy.

THE LARYNGECTOMEE, according to Mr. Craft, has escaped the spread of cancer. However, from a psychological and economic standpoint, the loss of voice is naturally a tremendous detriment to the patient.

Mr. Craft points out it takes a little time to learn to use the esophagus, but it is done every day. The students at the recent convention learned the technique of imparting this knowledge.

Unfortunately, the number of such cases is increasing and the supply of teachers far exceeds the demand for the training which is given in six steps.

SUMMARILY, the patient is taught not to associate breathing with talking and begins to "swallow" air and expelling it. The use of the expelled air enables the patient to start forming easy words. And the process continues until, with a little time, the habit of swallowing air becomes a natural reflex with the patient.

The instruction of laryngectomees, those who have had their larynxes removed to speak by using the esophagus, is another long step forward in progress, and Mr. Craft is anxious to make his contributions to that progress. He may be contacted by writing to RD 4, Box 269, Kingston.

Nadler Motors won its second straight game in the second half of the City Baseball League with a 6-2 decision over Dobler Beer, yesterday at the Atheltic Field.

The Motormen collected half of their six-hit total in the first inning off Frank Reis to score three runs.

CHUCK ENGLE went the six-inning route for Nadlers, limiting the opposition to five hits and fanning five. One of the five safeties was Johnny Armstrong's two-run homer in the fourth.

The victory left Nadlers and Jones Dairy as the only unbeaten teams in the second round. The Dairymen were scheduled to meet the New York Panthers in this evening's game.

DON LYONS singled with one out in the first inning. Engle was hit by a pitched ball. An infield out and successive singles by Ward Dunham and Randy Siegel added up to three runs.

Two Dobler miscues behind a walk to Goercke and Don Lyons' second hit accounted for a Nadler cheapie in the fourth.

Reis exited with one out in the sixth when Nadlers scored twice. Bob Baumer walked and stole second. Singles by Georcke and Bob Fay sandwiched a throwing error by Reis on a bunt play to complete the rally.

WITH A LITTLE luck Doblers might have done more damage in the fourth. Bill Glaser led off with a single but was doubled off first on Mike Rienzo's sharp liner to Dunham. Bud Scheffel singled and Armstrong followed with his homer.

Lyons of Nadlers and Armstrong each had two hits.

Evers in Hospital With Eye Injury

Detroit, Aug. 18 (AP)—An eye injury suffered in yesterday's game with the Detroit Tigers kept veteran outfielder Hoot Evers of the Cleveland Indians in Detroit Memorial Hospital today.

Dr. Alfred Whittaker, staff physician said Evers "will not lose his eyesight," but estimated Evers would be in the hospital at least a day or two.

Evers suffered the injury pinch hitting. A foul tip struck him in the right eye.

Kiwanis shaded Elks, 1-0, in a brilliant pitching duel in which neither pitcher permitted a hit through the first five innings, yesterday in the Fraternal Youth League.

The victory tied the Kiwanians for first place with the Volunteer Firemen, with 7 wins and 1 loss each.

FRANK SAMMONS and Tom Van Etten boh pitched themselves handsome games, respective one and two-hitters, but Sammons was returned the winner in the bottom of the sixth.

Ward Yerry's double to right field to launch the sixth was the first Kiwanis hit off Van Etten. Yerry advanced to third on an infield out. Jery Niles collared Hobart Armstrong's grounder near second base but couldn't hold and Yerry slipped across with the first run. The umpires then called the game because of darkness.

PAT SANGALINE spoiled Sammons' bid for a no-hitter with a leadoff single in the top of the sixth. He stole second but was stranded there when Sammons retired the next three batsmen.

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

The American League race is so screwy, even the contending managers are talking with tongues in cheek. Each one maintains his guys are going to win it, but none of them sounds convincing.

Just a couple of days ago, Al Lopez of Cleveland, observing there were no pushovers in the league, figured there wasn't much chance of one club getting hot and racing off with the flag—but if any club could do it, his Indians could what with their pitching and all.

And Chicago's Marty Marion, ever sure his White Sox will come out on top, nevertheless conceded he couldn't see all that New York talent going to rot.

Casey Stengel, meanwhile, patted his Yankees on the head and warned that the Boston Red Sox were not to be written off.

SO WHAT HAPPENS? Detroit up and busts Cleveland for the second straight day yesterday 9-5 as the Tribe lost its third in a row behind the failures of its mound aces—Mike Garcia, Early Wynn and Bob Lemon.

And Boston, still persistent if not as consistent, wallops the Yanks off a seven-game streak 7-1 behind the excellent pitching of Ike Delock.

All of which left the Yanks just one game and three percentage points ahead of the White Sox, who were idle pending a doubleheader with Kansas City today. Chicago, in turn, is a half game up on the Indians, who are but two games ahead of the fourth place Bostons.

The Tigers mistreated Lemon for six hits and five runs in three innings. That's the longest any of Lopez' Big Three has lasted in the last three games.

Jim Bunning gave up solo homers to Larry Doby, Bobby Avila and Gene Woodling before Babe Birrer came on to win in relief. Al Kaline, back up to .350 to top major league batters, and Bill Tuttle had three hits each in the Tigers' 14-hit attack as Cleveland used four pitchers for the third straight game.

The Yanks, who three times have won seven in a row this season, gave up their chance at eight straight as Boston scored five times in the sixth inning.

Grady Hatton and Jim Piersall laced Bob Turley for back-to-back triples to get the frame under way.

DELOCK, a 25-year-old right-hander who had failed against New York in two previous tries, checked the Bombers on two hits 'til the seventh when Elston Howard's double and a pinch single by Joe Collins scored the Yanks' run. He gave five hits for the night.

A twi-night doubleheader between Baltimore and the Nats at Washington was rained out.

In the National League, Brooklyn lost its second straight to New York 5-1; Milwaukee homered past St. Louis 11-4; Chicago regained fifth place from Cincinnati 3-2, and Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

Willie Mays led the Giants' attack with a triple, two singles and a walk and figured in all of New York's runs. Ramon Monzant, going the distance for the first time in the majors, won his second while scattering eight hits and striking out eight.

Del Crandall's grand slammer in the eighth put the Braves beyond reach, following earlier homers by Andy Pafko and Ed Mathews that had built a 5-4 lead. Milwaukee now trails Brooklyn by 14 and still heads New York by one.

Hold Off Obits

Lopez Says Indians Ain't Dead Yet

Detroit, Aug. 18 (AP)—Hold off on those Cleveland obituaries.

The Indians may be gasping, but skipper Al Lopez says they're not dying.

"We're still in pretty good shape, even though we're a game and a half out of first place," said the solid senor today.

"We've had batting troubles all season and now, for no reason, our pitching has gone sour. But, then, we've been hot and cold right from the start," Lopez added.

Only last Saturday night the Indians held what appeared to be a firm two-game grip on first place. They seemed ready to make a run for their second straight flag.

Then Cleveland's pitching staff crumbled.

In the last three games Lopez has called on 12 pitchers—four in each game. He used Bob Lemon, Bob Feller, Ray Narleski and Art Houtteman yesterday but wound up on the short end of a 9-5 score to the Detroit Tigers.

Lemon, making his second start since returning to duty after missing three weeks with a pulled leg muscle, lasted only three innings. He was cuffed for six hits and five runs.

Much of Cleveland's trouble stems from a serious decline in production of the "Big Three"—Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia.

They've compiled an overall mark of 35-27, compared to 47-19 at this time last year.

The official recognition of the Indians, who also took the first round, as season champions has been held up by a Tigers protest.

Tigers manager Charles Diers disagreed with league director James DeCicco when the latter removed Tigers cacher Jimmy Rodden from the game in the second inning.

DeCICCO WOULDN'T allow Rodden to continue play when the Tigers receiver injured his throwing hand. Diers argued that the youngster should have been allowed to stay in the game. Diers said this morning that the protest definitely would be filed.

Eleven hits, including two apiece by Joe Cavano, Dick Sickler and Bryan Feeney, featured the Eagles' attack.

BILL MURPHY and Tom Henry did he pitching for the winners. Murphy hurled the first three, giving up the only Tigers hit to Joe Spada. "Murph" was the winner. Henry finished, hurling the fourth and fifth. Darkness halted the game at this point.

Jerry Bradford, who hurled four and one-third innings, was the loser. Spada pitched the remainder of the fifth.

Spada's hit was a clean single to left with two away in the third frame.

Skip Aiello again went the distance (?) for the Eagles, losing his seventh straight.

Nadler Motors won its second straight game in the second half of the City Baseball League with a 6-2 decision over Dobler Beer, yesterday at the Atheltic Field.

The Motormen collected half of their six-hit total in the first inning off Frank Reis to score three runs.

CHUCK ENGLE went the six-inning route for Nadlers, limiting the opposition to five hits and fanning five. One of the five safeties was Johnny Armstrong's two-run homer in the fourth.

The victory left Nadlers and Jones Dairy as the only unbeaten teams in the second round. The Dairymen were scheduled to meet the New York Panthers in this evening's game.

DON LYONS singled with one out in the first inning. Engle was hit by a pitched ball. An infield out and successive singles by Ward Dunham and Randy Siegel added up to three runs.

Two Dobler miscues behind a walk to Goercke and Don Lyons' second hit accounted for a Nadler cheapie in the fourth.

Reis exited with one out in the sixth when Nadlers scored twice. Bob Baumer walked and stole second. Singles by Georcke and Bob Fay sandwiched a throwing error by Reis on a bunt play to complete the rally.

WITH A LITTLE luck Doblers might have done more damage in the fourth. Bill Glaser led off with a single but was doubled off first on Mike Rienzo's sharp liner to Dunham. Bud Scheffel singled and Armstrong followed with his homer.

Lyons of Nadlers and Armstrong each had two hits.

The number of innings play in Jaycee Little League games keeps getting shorter, but apparently it doesn't affect the total number of runs produced.

Last night's game at Forsyth Park went only three and one-half frames, but 17 runs came across the plate before darkness intervened. The first-place Crows took it, 9-8 over the cellar-dwelling Eagles.

BRUCE EVERY was the winning pitcher. He worked the first three innings, allowing seven Eagles' runs. The losers got their final run off Bill Reardon in the fourth.

Skip Aiello again went the distance (?) for the Eagles, losing his seventh straight.

Tom Ryan's double and two singles were tops for the Eagles. Bill Costello had two hits for the Crows.

Kiwanis shaded Elks, 1-0, in a brilliant pitching duel in which neither pitcher permitted a hit through the first five innings, yesterday in the Fraternal Youth League.

The victory tied the Kiwanians for first place with the Volunteer Firemen, with 7 wins and 1 loss each.

FRANK SAMMONS and Tom Van Etten boh pitched themselves handsome games, respective one and two-hitters, but Sammons was returned the winner in the bottom of the sixth.

Ward Yerry's double to right field to launch the sixth was the first Kiwanis hit off Van Etten. Yerry advanced to third on an infield out. Jery Niles collared Hobart Armstrong's grounder near second base but couldn't hold and Yerry slipped across with the first run. The umpires then called the game because of darkness.

PAT SANGALINE spoiled Sammons' bid for a no-hitter with a leadoff single in the top of the sixth. He stole second but was stranded there when Sammons retired the next three batsmen.

THE SCOREBOARD

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

The American League race is so screwy, even the contending managers are talking with tongues in cheek. Each one maintains his guys are going to win it, but none of them sounds convincing.

Just a couple of days ago, Al Lopez of Cleveland, observing there were no pushovers in the league, figured there wasn't much chance of one club getting hot and racing off with the flag—but if any club could do it, his Indians could what with their pitching and all.

And Chicago's Marty Marion, ever sure his White Sox will come out on top, nevertheless conceded he couldn't see all that New York talent going to rot.

Casey Stengel, meanwhile, patted his Yankees on the head and warned that the Boston Red Sox were not to be written off.

SO WHAT HAPPENS? Detroit up and busts Cleveland for the second straight day yesterday 9-5 as the Tribe lost its third in a row behind the failures of its mound aces—Mike Garcia, Early Wynn and Bob Lemon.

And Boston, still persistent if not as consistent, wallops the Yanks off a seven-game streak 7-1 behind the excellent pitching of Ike Delock.

All of which left the Yanks just one game and three percentage points ahead of the White Sox, who were idle pending a doubleheader with Kansas City today. Chicago, in turn, is a half game up on the Indians, who are but two games ahead of the fourth place Bostons.

The Tigers mistreated Lemon for six hits and five runs in three innings. That's the longest any of Lopez' Big Three has lasted in the last three games.

Jim Bunning gave up solo homers to Larry Doby, Bobby Avila and Gene Woodling before Babe Birrer came on to win in relief. Al Kaline, back up to .350 to top major league batters, and Bill Tuttle had three hits each in the Tigers' 14-hit attack as Cleveland used four pitchers for the third straight game.

The Yanks, who three times have won seven in a row this season, gave up their chance at eight straight as Boston scored five times in the sixth inning.

Grady Hatton and Jim Piersall laced Bob Turley for back-to-back triples to get the frame under way.

DELOCK, a 25-year-old right-hander who had failed against New York in two previous tries, checked the Bombers on two hits 'til the seventh when Elston Howard's double and a pinch single by Joe Collins scored the Yanks' run. He gave five hits for the night.

A twi-night doubleheader between Baltimore and the Nats at Washington was rained out.

In the National League, Brooklyn lost its second straight to New York 5-1; Milwaukee homered past St. Louis 11-4; Chicago regained fifth place from Cincinnati 3-2, and Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

Willie Mays led the Giants' attack with a triple, two singles and a walk and figured in all of New York's runs. Ramon Monzant, going the distance for the first time in the majors, won his second while scattering eight hits and striking out eight.

Del Crandall's grand slammer in the eighth put the Braves beyond reach, following earlier homers by Andy Pafko and Ed Mathews that had built a 5-4 lead. Milwaukee now trails Brooklyn by 14 and still heads New York by one.

Hold Off Obits

Lopez Says Indians Ain't Dead Yet

Detroit, Aug. 18 (AP)—Hold off on those Cleveland obituaries.

The Indians may be gasping, but skipper Al Lopez says they're not dying.

"We're still in pretty good shape, even though we're a game and a half out of first place," said the solid senor today.

"We've had batting troubles all season and now, for no reason, our pitching has gone sour. But, then, we've been hot and cold right from the start," Lopez added.

Only last Saturday night the Indians held what appeared to be a firm two-game grip on first place. They seemed ready to make a run for their second straight flag.

Then Cleveland's pitching staff crumbled.

In the last three games Lopez has called on 12 pitchers—four in each game. He used Bob Lemon, Bob Feller, Ray Narleski and Art Houtteman yesterday but wound up on the short end of a 9-5 score to the Detroit Tigers.

Lemon, making his second start since returning to duty after missing three weeks with a pulled leg muscle, lasted only three innings. He was cuffed for six hits and five runs.

Much of Cleveland's trouble stems from a serious decline in production of the "Big Three"—Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia.

They've compiled an overall mark of 35-27, compared to 47-19 at this time last year.

Perrys Forfeit League Contest to Destroyers

Krueger Leads FYL Batsmen; Thomas (4-0) Best Pitcher

Don Krueger is the leading batter and Willard Thomas the leading pitcher of the Fraternal Youth League, according to statistics compiled by Frank Reis, loop secretary.

Krueger was belting the ball at a .450 clip, through games of last week. The Volunteer Firemen's player had seven hits in 16 trips to the plate. League-leading averages included those with 15 or more official at bats.

THOMAS, 13-year-old Kiwanis Club player, won four games while losing none. He had hurled 15 complete innings.

Lee Kias of the Rotary Club was second to Krueger, hitting .444 with eight base blows in 18 tries.

Bob Short of the Volunteer Firemen had the most hits, 11 in 26 tries. His average was .423.

Shuffle Loop Slates Meeting

An organizationel meeting of the Ulster County Tavern Shuffleboard League will be conducted Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Rookie's Tavern, East Strand.

Officers for the 1955-56 season will be elected at this time.

Several new entrants are expected this season, according to George B. Harman, league president.

The league is expected to begin competition by Oct. 1. This will enable two rounds of play to be completed, one more than last year.

Satterfield Bursts Valdes Bubble in Ten

Chicago, Aug. 18 (AP)—Bob Satterfield, the unpredictable heavyweight slugger, pondered over his in-and-out fistic progress today after scoring a unanimous decision over Cuban Nino Valdes, a leading contender for Rocky Marciano's title.

Satterfield dealt the giant Valdes his 10th defeat in 45 bouts last night in a nationally televised 10-rounder at Chicago Stadium.

IN A BOUT that very few observers thought would go the limit, since both men had 75 per cent knockout averages, Satterfield hammered Valdes to the floor in the final round, but he couldn't keep him there. The Chicago Negro, outweighed 32 pounds and a 3 to 1 underdog, won a unanimous decision.

Satterfield weighed 183; Valdes 215.

Previous to last night's bout Valdes was ranked No. 5 among heavyweight contenders. Satterfield has scored 30 knockouts in 38 victories. He has lost 19 bouts, including a few to boxing unknowns.

Negro Champion Fires 9-Under 63 In Canadian Open

Toronto, Aug. 18 (AP)—Charlie Sifford, jazz-minded United States national Negro champion from Philadelphia, pranced on the Weston Club course yesterday humming snatches of music and fired a sensational first-round 63, nine under par to take the Canadian Open golf tourney lead.

One stroke back, with 64, was Arnold Palmer, last year's U. S. Amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa., and now a pro, and at 66 came Vancouver's Stan Leonard along with Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., and Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Four more cashed in with 67—Jerry Barber of Laguna Beach, Calif., Art Wall, Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., Jackie Burke, Jr., of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and a surprise-package Canadian, 27-year-old Bob Dean of Cornwall, Ont.

FYL Pictures At Elks Club

Members of the Fraternal Youth League All-Stars will have their pictures taken at 7:15 this evening at the Elks Club, if weather conditions prevent the scheduled 7:15 meeting at Dietz Stadium.

Umpire Charges Stalling Tactics

The City Softball League had itself an old fashioned rhubarb yesterday when Umpire Mike Milano awarded the Destroyer A. C. a 7-0 forfeit over Perry's at Dietz stadium.

Milano terminated the game with one out in the top of the seventh and the Destroyers leading 1-0, because of stalling tactics on the part of Perry's.

THE UMPIRE'S action terminated one of the stormiest games in local softball history. Tempers flared almost from the beginning and several rhubarbs were halted just short of fisticuffs.

It is not known whether Perry's will protest the game.

Hilltop scored five runs in the fourth to defeat Gene's Bar and Grill, 8-5, and bolster its chances for the Shaughnessy playoffs.

MIRON LUMBER dealt Wimpy's a hard blow with a 9-5 victory. In the National League, Les Pommiers defeated Krovans, 16-2, and Hercules practically eliminated Kaplans from the playoffs with a 6-3 triumph.

Al Cross stopped Gene's with six hits while Hilltop was accumulating 12 off Don Dyson. Billy Gavis slugged three singles and Orlando Felipe rapped a single and homer for Hilltop. Cross pitched shutout ball after Hilltop forged ahead, 6-5, on the five-run rally.

Les Pommiers scored 10 runs in the second inning en route to the 16-2 rout of Krovan. Joe Amato breezed under a five-hitter.

BUD LEININGER crashed two homers and Fred Orr a solo for the winers. Orr added three singles. Champ Holstein cracked a double and two singles.

Mirons scored three runs in three successive innings (fourth, fifth and sixth) and Wimpy's picked up five in the sixth. And that was all.

Smith homered for Wimpy's and Bruck and Hines had two hits each.

B. Throneberry's three singles paced Hercules win over Kaplans. Dick Bezemer hit a double and two singles for the Bagmen.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano

Rose Schatzel, perennial Queen of Hudson Valley women keglers, finished 11th in the nation with her 709 triple during the 1954-55 bowling season.

The national leader was Lil Canfield of San Antonio, Texas, with a 743 slam. Sylvia Wene, of Philadelphia, the national women's match game champion, finished third with 732.

Mrs. Schatzel was in top drawer company in the WIBC's honor roll. And we have always suspected that if Rose were located in a major city and rolled in the big major women's wheels like Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit or Indianapolis, she would be a consistent 190-average shooter.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

It's a large mouthful and highly debatable to say the shadow ball infield practice staged by the California Cuties was the best ever staged at Dietz Stadium. You remember the fabulous legerdomain of Buster Kenny and the Detroit Clowns, the House of David and the various Negro Natoional League squads. But for split-second timing, pantomime and plain, simple clowning the Cuties' act will have to stand as the best until something better comes along. . . . A tip of the hat to the Ulster-Albany Avenue Business Men's Association for their support of the junior baseball program in the School District No. 8 area in the Town of Ulster. Also to Manager Charlie Lay, Ted Musialkiewicz who are devoting their time to this worthwhile movement. John Hetsco and Bud Leininger will assist Lay as coaches. Plans have been made to organize teams for experienced players and beginners. The baseball teams are working in conjunction with the recreational program sponsored by the Town of Ulster under the supervision of Reginald Russell. . . . More of bowling . . . New supplies for the 1955-56 season have arrived here from the American Bowling Congress. Local league secretaries are requested to contact Irwin J. Thomas, the KBA secretary, for their materials.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Charlie Gaffney and Lou Bruhn best-balled Alex Gerlak into defeat in a recent outing at the plush Westchester Country Club. The old pro fired a 79. . . . Larry Robinson, the World-Telly golf expert, thinks Ben Hogan's "secret" can help any good golfer, amateur or pro, who is willing to go through the same throes of perfecting a difficult stratagem. It is no cure-all or shortcut. It's a refinement which can be achieved only by hard work and sacrifice. Everyone thinks Hogan got a great bargain, selling the secret for $10,000. The ones who got the bargain, if they have the guts to go through the regimen, are several thousand golfers in the par-busting class who could get to be almost as good as Ben. . . . Best two-year golfer we know is Ordie Morrell of the Woodstock Country Club. Charles J. Turck was another rookie who made the grade in a hurry.

Poughkeepsie is the only team in the New York-New Jersey Semi-Pro League likely to finish in the black this season. This, in itself, is a rather ironical twist, because for years the Bridge City has been rated the worst sports town in the Hudson valley. Sports editor George Palmateer points out that a pre-season sale of tickets put the team on its feet before the schedule started and, as a result, there's a good-sized "nest egg" to be divided by the players. Meanwhile Newburgh Dodgers Jewels, despite the most intensive drum-beating campaign in Hudson valley history, are starving for attention from the fans. You know the situation in Kingston. Palmateer endorses our suggestion that a Hudson valley league replace the NY-NJ setup and mentions Beacon as a probable new franchise. We offer Saugerties, too. In any event, like the guy said, why not give the likes of the New York Mohawks back to the Indians.

Alston Cracks Whip on Brooks After Second Loss to Giants

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—The pennant-bound Brooklyn Dodgers, comforted by a 14-game lead, experienced their first shakeup of the season today after a disturbed Walter Alston reportedly gave them what was termed in some quarters a "you-better-wake-up" speech.

Alston, after seeing his Dodgers stagger through one of their most listless performances of the season in last night's 5-1 loss to New York, announced he was making a couple of changes for today's series finale against the Giants.

THE MANAGER said Junior Gilliam would replace Don Zimmer at second and Jackie Robinson would be in left field instead of Sandy Amoros. He also had a few choice words to say to a couple of unidentified Dodgers who, incidentally, were not the benched athletes. No Dodger would admit there was a speech by Alston, let alone disclose its text.

Does this mean the Dodgers are experiencing their customary August jinx? Hardly. Only a rabid Dodger-hater would venture such a prediction and it would be more wishful thinking than anything based on fact. A 14 and 15-game bulge over a couple of crippled challengers like the Milwaukee Braves and New York Giants with less than six weeks to go should be enough to overcome any case of nervousness.

THERE'S NO denying the Dodgers not only looked but played like a bunch of tired athletes last night in losing their sixth game in nine starts. They reached Ramon Monzant, Giants' rookie righthander, for eight hits and were presented with four walks but scored only one run as they left 10 runners stranded. On the field, they made three errors, only the third time this season that they have committed that many miscues in a game.

As is the case with their major league namesakes, nobody stays ahead of the Dodgers for long. Not even the Giants.

The local Sprague Dodgers of the American Little League, edged out by the Electrol Giants for the first half title, scrambled back to capture the second round last night at the LL Stadium, nipping their erstwhile foes 4-3 in an extra-inning thriller.

It was the final regular-season game for both teams. Each had a 7-1 record before the contest.

THE TASTE OF victory was especially sweet for the Dodgers, who had lost 4-1 to the Giants in the game which decided the first round championship.

Gary Barnes worked a great game, allowing three hits in the six innings he performed. Barnes struck out 12 and walked four.

Len Bovee, who took over the mound in the seventh and set the Giants down in order, was credited with the victory. Barnes left the mound after the sixth, when Walt Harder's home run had tied the score.

HARDER, THE winning pitcher in the first round title match, also twirled six innings. He allowed four of the Dodgers' five hits but escaped defeat. Bob Black was the victim.

Wayne Elmendorf greeted Black with a triple. After one batter was retired, Tom Ashdown hit a ground ball to third. Elmendorf was thrown out at the plate, with Ashdown moving to second on the throw-in.

Then Black proceeded to walk himself into defeat. He gave up successive passes to Ron Secreto, Barnes and Bob Smith. The latter one brought in Ashdown with the winning run.

The Dodgers took an early lead with three in the second. Bases on balls again figured in the scoring. Elmendorf and Dave Holly opened by drawing walks. Ashdown singled for one run and Secreto did likewise for a pair.

The Giants came back with a brace of runs in the third. Joe Uhl's solid double, behind Vince Meleski's walk and Vince Smedes' single, accounted for the runs.

BARNES WAS two outs away from a victory in the sixth when Harder poled one of his serves over the left field fence, knotting the score at 3-all.

Playoffs between the two teams to decide the season's champion are forthcoming, probably beginning Monday night. No definite dates have been set.

THOMAS, 13-year-old Kiwanis Club player, won four games while losing none. He had hurled 15 complete innings.

Lee Kias of the Rotary Club was second to Krueger, hitting .444 with eight base blows in 18 tries.

Bob Short of the Volunteer Firemen had the most hits, 11 in 26 tries. His average was .423.

Shuffle Loop Slates Meeting

An organizationel meeting of the Ulster County Tavern Shuffleboard League will be conducted Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Rookie's Tavern, East Strand.

Officers for the 1955-56 season will be elected at this time.

Several new entrants are expected this season, according to George B. Harman, league president.

The league is expected to begin competition by Oct. 1. This will enable two rounds of play to be completed, one more than last year.

Satterfield Bursts Valdes Bubble in Ten

Chicago, Aug. 18 (AP)—Bob Satterfield, the unpredictable heavyweight slugger, pondered over his in-and-out fistic progress today after scoring a unanimous decision over Cuban Nino Valdes, a leading contender for Rocky Marciano's title.

Satterfield dealt the giant Valdes his 10th defeat in 45 bouts last night in a nationally televised 10-rounder at Chicago Stadium.

IN A BOUT that very few observers thought would go the limit, since both men had 75 per cent knockout averages, Satterfield hammered Valdes to the floor in the final round, but he couldn't keep him there. The Chicago Negro, outweighed 32 pounds and a 3 to 1 underdog, won a unanimous decision.

Satterfield weighed 183; Valdes 215.

Previous to last night's bout Valdes was ranked No. 5 among heavyweight contenders. Satterfield has scored 30 knockouts in 38 victories. He has lost 19 bouts, including a few to boxing unknowns.

Negro Champion Fires 9-Under 63 In Canadian Open

Toronto, Aug. 18 (AP)—Charlie Sifford, jazz-minded United States national Negro champion from Philadelphia, pranced on the Weston Club course yesterday humming snatches of music and fired a sensational first-round 63, nine under par to take the Canadian Open golf tourney lead.

One stroke back, with 64, was Arnold Palmer, last year's U. S. Amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa., and now a pro, and at 66 came Vancouver's Stan Leonard along with Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., and Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Four more cashed in with 67—Jerry Barber of Laguna Beach, Calif., Art Wall, Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., Jackie Burke, Jr., of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and a surprise-package Canadian, 27-year-old Bob Dean of Cornwall, Ont.

Umpire Charges Stalling Tactics

The City Softball League had itself an old fashioned rhubarb yesterday when Umpire Mike Milano awarded the Destroyer A. C. a 7-0 forfeit over Perry's at Dietz stadium.

Milano terminated the game with one out in the top of the seventh and the Destroyers leading 1-0, because of stalling tactics on the part of Perry's.

THE UMPIRE'S action terminated one of the stormiest games in local softball history. Tempers flared almost from the beginning and several rhubarbs were halted just short of fisticuffs.

It is not known whether Perry's will protest the game.

Hilltop scored five runs in the fourth to defeat Gene's Bar and Grill, 8-5, and bolster its chances for the Shaughnessy playoffs.

MIRON LUMBER dealt Wimpy's a hard blow with a 9-5 victory. In the National League, Les Pommiers defeated Krovans, 16-2, and Hercules practically eliminated Kaplans from the playoffs with a 6-3 triumph.

Al Cross stopped Gene's with six hits while Hilltop was accumulating 12 off Don Dyson. Billy Gavis slugged three singles and Orlando Felipe rapped a single and homer for Hilltop. Cross pitched shutout ball after Hilltop forged ahead, 6-5, on the five-run rally.

Les Pommiers scored 10 runs in the second inning en route to the 16-2 rout of Krovan. Joe Amato breezed under a five-hitter.

BUD LEININGER crashed two homers and Fred Orr a solo for the winers. Orr added three singles. Champ Holstein cracked a double and two singles.

Mirons scored three runs in three successive innings (fourth, fifth and sixth) and Wimpy's picked up five in the sixth. And that was all.

Smith homered for Wimpy's and Bruck and Hines had two hits each.

B. Throneberry's three singles paced Hercules win over Kaplans. Dick Bezemer hit a double and two singles for the Bagmen.

Rose Schatzel, perennial Queen of Hudson Valley women keglers, finished 11th in the nation with her 709 triple during the 1954-55 bowling season.

The national leader was Lil Canfield of San Antonio, Texas, with a 743 slam. Sylvia Wene, of Philadelphia, the national women's match game champion, finished third with 732.

Mrs. Schatzel was in top drawer company in the WIBC's honor roll. And we have always suspected that if Rose were located in a major city and rolled in the big major women's wheels like Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit or Indianapolis, she would be a consistent 190-average shooter.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

It's a large mouthful and highly debatable to say the shadow ball infield practice staged by the California Cuties was the best ever staged at Dietz Stadium. You remember the fabulous legerdomain of Buster Kenny and the Detroit Clowns, the House of David and the various Negro Natoional League squads. But for split-second timing, pantomime and plain, simple clowning the Cuties' act will have to stand as the best until something better comes along. . . . A tip of the hat to the Ulster-Albany Avenue Business Men's Association for their support of the junior baseball program in the School District No. 8 area in the Town of Ulster. Also to Manager Charlie Lay, Ted Musialkiewicz who are devoting their time to this worthwhile movement. John Hetsco and Bud Leininger will assist Lay as coaches. Plans have been made to organize teams for experienced players and beginners. The baseball teams are working in conjunction with the recreational program sponsored by the Town of Ulster under the supervision of Reginald Russell. . . . More of bowling . . . New supplies for the 1955-56 season have arrived here from the American Bowling Congress. Local league secretaries are requested to contact Irwin J. Thomas, the KBA secretary, for their materials.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Charlie Gaffney and Lou Bruhn best-balled Alex Gerlak into defeat in a recent outing at the plush Westchester Country Club. The old pro fired a 79. . . . Larry Robinson, the World-Telly golf expert, thinks Ben Hogan's "secret" can help any good golfer, amateur or pro, who is willing to go through the same throes of perfecting a difficult stratagem. It is no cure-all or shortcut. It's a refinement which can be achieved only by hard work and sacrifice. Everyone thinks Hogan got a great bargain, selling the secret for $10,000. The ones who got the bargain, if they have the guts to go through the regimen, are several thousand golfers in the par-busting class who could get to be almost as good as Ben. . . . Best two-year golfer we know is Ordie Morrell of the Woodstock Country Club. Charles J. Turck was another rookie who made the grade in a hurry.

Poughkeepsie is the only team in the New York-New Jersey Semi-Pro League likely to finish in the black this season. This, in itself, is a rather ironical twist, because for years the Bridge City has been rated the worst sports town in the Hudson valley. Sports editor George Palmateer points out that a pre-season sale of tickets put the team on its feet before the schedule started and, as a result, there's a good-sized "nest egg" to be divided by the players. Meanwhile Newburgh Dodgers Jewels, despite the most intensive drum-beating campaign in Hudson valley history, are starving for attention from the fans. You know the situation in Kingston. Palmateer endorses our suggestion that a Hudson valley league replace the NY-NJ setup and mentions Beacon as a probable new franchise. We offer Saugerties, too. In any event, like the guy said, why not give the likes of the New York Mohawks back to the Indians.

Alston Cracks Whip on Brooks After Second Loss to Giants

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—The pennant-bound Brooklyn Dodgers, comforted by a 14-game lead, experienced their first shakeup of the season today after a disturbed Walter Alston reportedly gave them what was termed in some quarters a "you-better-wake-up" speech.

HARDER, THE winning pitcher in the first round title match, also twirled six innings. He allowed four of the Dodgers' five hits but escaped defeat. Bob Black was the victim.

Wayne Elmendorf greeted Black with a triple. After one batter was retired, Tom Ashdown hit a ground ball to third. Elmendorf was thrown out at the plate, with Ashdown moving to second on the throw-in.

Then Black proceeded to walk himself into defeat. He gave up successive passes to Ron Secreto, Barnes and Bob Smith. The latter one brought in Ashdown with the winning run.

The Dodgers took an early lead with three in the second. Bases on balls again figured in the scoring. Elmendorf and Dave Holly opened by drawing walks. Ashdown singled for one run and Secreto did likewise for a pair.

The Giants came back with a brace of runs in the third. Joe Uhl's solid double, behind Vince Meleski's walk and Vince Smedes' single, accounted for the runs.

BARNES WAS two outs away from a victory in the sixth when Harder poled one of his serves over the left field fence, knotting the score at 3-all.

Playoffs between the two teams to decide the season's champion are forthcoming, probably beginning Monday night. No definite dates have been set.

Favorite Takes Yonkers Feature

Yonkers, Aug. 18 (AP)—Gene Jester, the 6-5 favorite with John Thomas at the reins, scored by one-length in the Larchmont at Yonkers Raceway last night.

In second place was Master Fingo and a half length farther back was Greentree Express.

It's Here, Folks!

Los Angeles, Aug. 18 (AP)—A crowd of 77,935 saw Eddie Le Baron pass for four touchdowns last night as the Washington Redskins humbled the Los Angeles Rams, 31-28, in their annual exhibition football game for Los Angeles Times Charities.

There is a nice lawn and many lovely sugar maples and ever green trees, currant bushes and fruit trees. Uncle Sams Will Play Colonials

NY-NJ League

Team	Won	Lost
New York	8	2
Poughkeepsie	7	2
Paterson	5	2
Newburgh	4	4
Brooklyn	1	7
Kingston	0	8

Their closing league game postponed by rain, the Kingston Colonials will attempt a 1955 finale Saturday night at Dietz Stadium against the Paterson Uncle Sams.

The locals, though in the league basement, can still have a say in Paterson's pennant hopes. A loss will eliminate the Uncle Sams from pennant contention.

The Paterson club has three games remaining, and must win them all to tie for the crown with the New York Mohawks, who have finished the season with an 8-2 record.

PATERSON HAS a game scheduled with the Newburgh Jewels on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 28. Plans call for a game at Poughkeepsie the same night.

The Poughkeepsians are also in the pennant scramble. Having one game remaining, the Bridge City club faces a "must win" contest on the 28th.

For the Colonials, Saturday's game is just a matter of closing out a sorry season. Kingston just hasn't had what it takes to win.

Fred Davi, business manager of the Colonials, said that another game, the washed-out contest with the Brooklyn Windsors, might be played the following week. One or two exhibition games are also probable.

Sullivan Horse Show Set Aug. 20

Dates for the annual Sullivan County Horse Show, second largest in New York state, have been set for Aug. 20-21 at Skliar's Hotel in Monticello.

Entries for the 52 classes of the show must be mailed to Mrs. Otto Feigenheimer, Park Lane Motel, Route 209, Port Jervis.

Carl Salomon of Monticello is show chairman. Joseph J. McNierney of Kingston will be the announcer.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Ike Delock, Red Sox, young righthander held New York to two hits in first six innings, then relaxed to yield three more in 7-1 triumph.

BATTING—Hank Sauer, Cubs, belted two home runs for all Chicago's runs in 3-2 victory over Cincinnati.

$71,000 Futurity Set at Yonkers

Yonkers, Aug. 18 (AP)—Quick Chief and Libby's Boy, outstanding candidates for the 1955 3-year-old pacing title, meet 10 other sidewheelers of their age tonight at Yonkers Raceway in the $71,040 William H. Cane Futurity pace.

The Cane, richest of all pacing stakes and the first of the "twin futurities" at Yonkers, will be raced over a mile and one-sixteenth. The other futurity will be the $74,000 trot for 3-year-olds Sept. 1.

QUICK CHIEF, owned by Long Island potato farmer John Froelich, is the choice largely because of his performances this year on half-mile tracks such as Yonkers. The two rivals have met nine times this season with five of the decisions going to the Chief. He'll be driven by Bill Haughton, the nation's leading reinsman.

Libby's Boy, the Peter Pan Farm of Washington, Pa., whipped the Chief decisively on Goshen's mile track in 2:01 2/5 but the Froelich pacer had gone a mile in 2:01.

Dorpian Hurler Fires No-Hitter In Eastern

(By The Associated Press)

Schenectady lefthander Marv Williams today stands among the select group of hurlers who have pitched a no-hit game.

He did it last night as he blanked the Eastern League Elmira Pioneers 2-0 at Schenectady. He fanned five batters in succession starting with the final out in the sixth, and struck out 12 all told, giving up four walks.

THE READING Indians virtually assured themselves of the league crown by downing the runner-up Williamsport Grays in both ends of a double header 4-2 and 8-6. The Indians now hold a commanding nine-and-a-half-game lead with less than three weeks remaining.

Williamsport still retains a tenuous, one-percentage-point hold on second place, but third-place Binghamton picked up two full games on the Grays by virtue of a double victory over Albany 6-5 and 7-2. A scheduled Johnstown at Allentown game was rained out.

Cub Pack 19 Tours Local Foundry Plant

The making of patterns and molds and the pouring of hot metal was demonstrated to the Cub Scouts of Pack 19, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1386, on a recent tour of the Ulster Foundry and Machine Corporation on St. James street.

Arranged by Carl Wiegert, Sr., the educational tour of the foundry displayed to the Cub Scouts the processes used to turn out various items of metal used in the manufacturing industry. From the patterns thru the process of creating the sand molds and then the removal of the sand revealing the finished project, the processes were shown to the Cubs by Mr. Wiegert and supervisors at the plant.

The tour was one in the series of educational trips planned for the summer program of Cub Pack 19, and was under the leadership of the Den Mothers and Den Chiefs of the Pack.

Saugerties Board

cluded Raymond Garrison of Quarryville, Crotty Brothers of Veteran, Albert Ricketson of Saugerties, Fred Ohl, Woodstock road and Mountain View Coach of Coxsackie.

A special committee consisting of Chairman William Zeigler, John Lowther and George P. Holmes will meet with the bus company representatives on Friday for the general discussion of the problem.

At the Tuesday night meeting the board approved carrier insurance amounting to $100,000 to $300,000 for station wagons; $300,000 to $500,000 for buses and $50,000 for property damage.

It was also announced that test borings will be made on the proposed site of the new junior-senior high school at Market street extension prior to submitting the purchase of the property for the approval of the district voters.

A DELEGATION from Mt. Marion headed by Ward Tongue, chairman of the Mt. Marion Park Association attended the meeting and were informed that the kindergarten and first grade pupils would have to attend the old Mt. Marion school until other arrangements could be made. Pupils from 2 to 6 grades will go to the Glasco school and 7 and up to Saugerties for departmental classes in Saugerties High School.

The question of where the buses would pick up the children in Mt. Marion was discussed and the board indicated to the delegation that the pupils would be picked up outside of the development until such time as the new concrete bridge into the development is completed. When completed the board gave assurances that the pupils would be picked up inside the development and possibly at the park area.

Women Riot, One Escapes

Framingham, Mass., Aug. 18 (AP)—Some 50 inmates of the women's reformatory smashed windows and dishes in a noisy riot that was coupled last night with the escape of one inmate and the attempted breakout of three others. Authorities said the riot broke out when one of the women inmates informed reformatory officials that four women were trying to break out. Iris Allen, 26, of Fall River, serving a term for robbery, scaled a 10-foot high barbed wire fence and escaped.

Well Preserved Food

A portion of veal and some carrots taken from tin cans brought back by Sir Edward Perry's Arctic expedition of 1824 were displayed this year in London by the Canned Foods Advisory Bureau.

New Jersey has 44,000 more people moving into it than move out in an average year.

Uncle Sams Will Play Colonials

NY-NJ League

Team	Won	Lost
New York	8	2
Poughkeepsie	7	2
Paterson	5	2
Newburgh	4	4
Brooklyn	1	7
Kingston	0	8

Their closing league game postponed by rain, the Kingston Colonials will attempt a 1955 finale Saturday night at Dietz Stadium against the Paterson Uncle Sams.

The locals, though in the league basement, can still have a say in Paterson's pennant hopes. A loss will eliminate the Uncle Sams from pennant contention.

The Paterson club has three games remaining, and must win them all to tie for the crown with the New York Mohawks, who have finished the season with an 8-2 record.

PATERSON HAS a game scheduled with the Newburgh Jewels on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 28. Plans call for a game at Poughkeepsie the same night.

The Poughkeepsians are also in the pennant scramble. Having one game remaining, the Bridge City club faces a "must win" contest on the 28th.

For the Colonials, Saturday's game is just a matter of closing out a sorry season. Kingston just hasn't had what it takes to win.

Fred Davi, business manager of the Colonials, said that another game, the washed-out contest with the Brooklyn Windsors, might be played the following week. One or two exhibition games are also probable.

Sullivan Horse Show Set Aug. 20

Dates for the annual Sullivan County Horse Show, second largest in New York state, have been set for Aug. 20-21 at Skliar's Hotel in Monticello.

Entries for the 52 classes of the show must be mailed to Mrs. Otto Feigenheimer, Park Lane Motel, Route 209, Port Jervis.

Carl Salomon of Monticello is show chairman. Joseph J. McNierney of Kingston will be the announcer.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Ike Delock, Red Sox, young righthander held New York to two hits in first six innings, then relaxed to yield three more in 7-1 triumph.

BATTING—Hank Sauer, Cubs, belted two home runs for all Chicago's runs in 3-2 victory over Cincinnati.

$71,000 Futurity Set at Yonkers

Yonkers, Aug. 18 (AP)—Quick Chief and Libby's Boy, outstanding candidates for the 1955 3-year-old pacing title, meet 10 other sidewheelers of their age tonight at Yonkers Raceway in the $71,040 William H. Cane Futurity pace.

The Cane, richest of all pacing stakes and the first of the "twin futurities" at Yonkers, will be raced over a mile and one-sixteenth. The other futurity will be the $74,000 trot for 3-year-olds Sept. 1.

QUICK CHIEF, owned by Long Island potato farmer John Froelich, is the choice largely because of his performances this year on half-mile tracks such as Yonkers. The two rivals have met nine times this season with five of the decisions going to the Chief. He'll be driven by Bill Haughton, the nation's leading reinsman.

Libby's Boy, the Peter Pan Farm of Washington, Pa., whipped the Chief decisively on Goshen's mile track in 2:01 2/5 but the Froelich pacer had gone a mile in 2:01.

Dorpian Hurler Fires No-Hitter In Eastern

(By The Associated Press)

Schenectady lefthander Marv Williams today stands among the select group of hurlers who have pitched a no-hit game.

He did it last night as he blanked the Eastern League Elmira Pioneers 2-0 at Schenectady. He fanned five batters in succession starting with the final out in the sixth, and struck out 12 all told, giving up four walks.

THE READING Indians virtually assured themselves of the league crown by downing the runner-up Williamsport Grays in both ends of a double header 4-2 and 8-6. The Indians now hold a commanding nine-and-a-half-game lead with less than three weeks remaining.

Williamsport still retains a tenuous, one-percentage-point hold on second place, but third-place Binghamton picked up two full games on the Grays by virtue of a double victory over Albany 6-5 and 7-2. A scheduled Johnstown at Allentown game was rained out.

Cub Pack 19 Tours Local Foundry Plant

The making of patterns and molds and the pouring of hot metal was demonstrated to the Cub Scouts of Pack 19, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1386, on a recent tour of the Ulster Foundry and Machine Corporation on St. James street.

Arranged by Carl Wiegert, Sr., the educational tour of the foundry displayed to the Cub Scouts the processes used to turn out various items of metal used in the manufacturing industry. From the patterns thru the process of creating the sand molds and then the removal of the sand revealing the finished project, the processes were shown to the Cubs by Mr. Wiegert and supervisors at the plant.

The tour was one in the series of educational trips planned for the summer program of Cub Pack 19, and was under the leadership of the Den Mothers and Den Chiefs of the Pack.

Saugerties Board

cluded Raymond Garrison of Quarryville, Crotty Brothers of Veteran, Albert Ricketson of Saugerties, Fred Ohl, Woodstock road and Mountain View Coach of Coxsackie.

A special committee consisting of Chairman William Zeigler, John Lowther and George P. Holmes will meet with the bus company representatives on Friday for the general discussion of the problem.

At the Tuesday night meeting the board approved carrier insurance amounting to $100,000 to $300,000 for station wagons; $300,000 to $500,000 for buses and $50,000 for property damage.

It was also announced that test borings will be made on the proposed site of the new junior-senior high school at Market street extension prior to submitting the purchase of the property for the approval of the district voters.

A DELEGATION from Mt. Marion headed by Ward Tongue, chairman of the Mt. Marion Park Association attended the meeting and were informed that the kindergarten and first grade pupils would have to attend the old Mt. Marion school until other arrangements could be made. Pupils from 2 to 6 grades will go to the Glasco school and 7 and up to Saugerties for departmental classes in Saugerties High School.

The question of where the buses would pick up the children in Mt. Marion was discussed and the board indicated to the delegation that the pupils would be picked up outside of the development until such time as the new concrete bridge into the development is completed. When completed the board gave assurances that the pupils would be picked up inside the development and possibly at the park area.

Women Riot, One Escapes

Framingham, Mass., Aug. 18 (AP)—Some 50 inmates of the women's reformatory smashed windows and dishes in a noisy riot that was coupled last night with the escape of one inmate and the attempted breakout of three others. Authorities said the riot broke out when one of the women inmates informed reformatory officials that four women were trying to break out. Iris Allen, 26, of Fall River, serving a term for robbery, scaled a 10-foot high barbed wire fence and escaped.

Well Preserved Food

A portion of veal and some carrots taken from tin cans brought back by Sir Edward Perry's Arctic expedition of 1824 were displayed this year in London by the Canned Foods Advisory Bureau.

New Jersey has 44,000 more people moving into it than move out in an average year.

Winds Dissipate As Diane Moves Through Virginia

Richmond, Va., Aug. 18 (AP)—Diane, the well behaved hurricane, breezed northward early today as just another somewhat wet and windy storm.

Her once potent 100 M.P.H. winds dissipated in a long trip overland through the Carolinas and Virginia, the season's fourth tropical blow was about finished.

AS SHE MOVED toward eastern West Virginia and central Pennsylvania her Sunday punch was a gust of, at best, 40 M.P.H. Her sustained winds late last night, as she huffed and puffed at southside and southwest Virginia, had dwindled to 20 to 35 M.P.H.

The Weather Bureau, which stopped calling Diane a hurricane as early at 8 p. m. (EST) last night shortly after her entrance into Virginia, said her winds would continue to diminish as she moved north.

Moderate to heavy rains were to herald Diane's advance into central Pennsylvania and eastern West Virginia, as well as western Maryland, today.

X-rays Made on Child

A child was taken to Kingston Hospital for X-rays after a two-car collision at Washington avenue and Elizabeth street last night. Officers William Slover and Ira Hadsel reported at 8:09 p. m., that George F. Bishop, Jr., 30, of 140 Spring street, was driving south on Washington avenue and Sheldon Thaler, 22, of Ulster Park was headed east on Elizabeth street. Jane Bishop, 3, daughter of George Bishop, was taken to Kingston in a Schultz ambulance, to determine the extent of a head injury. She was kept overnight and discharged today.

Reports Bag Missing

Mrs. Arelaide Gissell, of 350 Midwood street, Brooklyn, who has been staying at William Hunt's Moonbrook Lodge, Allaben, notified police at 3:40 p. m., that a black leather bag containing $100, keys and other items, was missing. She had placed the bag on the parking lot pavement, she said, and then apparently drove off and forgot it. When she returned in about 15 minutes, it was gone. The money was in $5 and $10 bills, she said.

Chest Passes

project will be considered but only after the building is cleaned and repaired to meet health requirements and adequate trained personnel is obtained to supervise the nursery.

As the Volunteers of America membership becomes effective provisionally on January 1 and no money will be received from the Chest until that date, the agency is free to conduct its own campaign in the meantime to meet operational costs to carry out its program from the present through Dec. 31 of this year.

Budget requests from member agencies approved by the board at its meeting Wednesday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel included one from the Jewish Community Center for $10,000 and one from the Ulster County Girl Scout Council for $7,500.

The Jewish Community Center's request is the same as that agency submitted last year. The Chest allotment represents less than one-third of the total budget for 1956, which is estimated at $33,550. The balance of the operating income comes from dues and program fees, day camp operation, contributions by organizations and other items. Services of the Jewish Community Center are available to all members of the community.

The Girl Scout Council's request for $7,500 represents the Kingston area's share in the council's total county-wide budget of $33,000. Last year's request from the Chest was $5,000, and principal reason given for the increase was the provision for a full-time council executive in 1956. For the past several years the council employed only a part-time professional and clerical staff.

Although August traditionally is a month in which meetings are often omitted due to vacation periods and hot weather, Wednesday's meeting of the Community Chest board was attended by 16 board members, who also agreed to hold a special meeting August 31 to finish the work of budget consideration and to set the goal of the coming Red Feather drive.

Attending were: George B. Matthews, president; Arthur B. Ewig, vice president; Francis J. O'Neill, treasurer; Edward K. Lefren, budget committee chairman; Mrs. Harold Baltz, Larry V. Bogert, Edwin Ford, N. Jansen Fowler, Mrs. John B. Glennon, Ralph D. Harper, Mrs. H. Irvis, Elmer Rylance, John R. Shults. Dr. Herbert Schwartz, Warren F. Smith and George Yerry, Jr. Non-board members present were John R. Warren, executive director, and Mrs. Jeanne A. Snyder, office manager.

Travel Note

Mehm Reports Garden Ravaged

A type of mischief not often experienced locally, was reported to the police yesterday.

John L. Mehm, of 88 Grant street, who has a truck garden along Tammany street, reported that considerable damage had been done in the garden, apparently by youngsters.

Mellons were crushed, tomatoes "tossed all over," potatoes pulled out, and corn knocked over, Mehm said.
